Customers are attracted to online shopping not only because of the high level of convenience, but also because of the broader selection, competitive pricing, and greater access to information. Business organizations seek to offer online shopping because it is much lower cost compared to bricks and mortar stores, offers access to a worldwide market, increases customer value and builds sustainable capabilities. To increase online purchases, businesses must expend significant time and money to define, design, develop, test, implement, and maintain the web store. It is easier to lose a customer then to gain one and even top-online shopping sites in India will not succeed if the organization fails to practice common etiquette such as returning e-mails in a timely fashion, notifying customers of problems, being honest, and being good stewards of the customers' data. Because it is important to eliminate mistakes and be more appealing to online shoppers, flipOclick web shop designers study research on consumer expectations to simplify our customersâ€™ shopping endeavors. flipOclick .com - a complete online shopping site in India offering a great experience of convenient, accurate, quality and cost effective experience of E-shopping in India just over a mouse click.
