Putney is no more a remote village and these days, it is a part of London city and commercial activities are in full vigor at Putney. Land owners, land developers and real-estate agencies identified this place as the new location for their activities and as a result many new roads, houses, cottages and condominiums have come up there. Putney is known for its natural beauty and charm. It is on the banks of River Thames. Now Putney is a well established town with many shops and restaurants and people come here to enjoy the beauty of the Thames from the pathways on the sides of the river. Putney in West London is famous for its rowing heritage. Being a developed town on the bank of river, it was recognized as an ideal place for waterside apartments and houses. There are so many houses in Putney - big and small - for luxury accommodation. The Putney estate agents are active in the business of residential property as well as commercial property. Putney will be the favorite choice of those who prefer to have their house on the riverside and have a liking for houses with Victorian terraces.

As a result of the implementation of various development plans, many new apartments have come up in Putney and they are offered for sale as well as for rentals. The redevelopment plans include demolition of very old buildings and also investment of huge amounts for development of infrastructure. There are schemes for creation of jobs also. The leisurely life, view of the Thames and well managed restaurants has attracted many celebrities to this place. However, this place is ideal for professionals from the middle class also. Apartments and houses are still affordable for them here. Putney estate agents can provide apartments and houses of all budgets. Putney is a suburb of Wandsworth and people move over to Putney mainly to enjoy the leisurely life away from the busy city life.

From London, one can reach Putney within 30 minutes. The gradual increase in the number of permanent residents have necessitated other facilities like schools, hospitals etc. The Wandsworth council has already initiated development of unused places for the purpose of establishing more schools. This place is considered as one among the most suitable places for bringing up children. The real estate agencies offer new apartments, big houses and also houses for rentals. According to them, Putney can offer a home for all budgets. There are innumerable professional estate agencies engaged in the business of selling houses and rentals and also dealing in property management.
