This article is about the Investment strategies. This article is for those new investors who hurry into the stock market without knowing the basics will sStock Market is an avenue from which stocks of companies are bought and sold.

For some, they thought that stock market and Wall Street are the same. Wall Street in New York is just one example of a stock market.

To have a pre-disposition to buy and hold stocks for the long-term can be an extremely exclusive frame of mind. The long-term market trend is up, but in a volatile stock market, the long-term gain is often laden with risk and not nearly as great as many short-term gains. Risk vs. return has greatly increased for the long-term equity market investor. People argue that tax consequences are their reason for holding. That argument lacks weight. It is very difficult for some people to break away from old habits and patterns of thinking about the stock market. Those who are unwilling to learn from market crashes are doomed to repeat the lesson.

There are many things in this world that you would not dare to try to teach yourself. Stock market investing should be one of the things on this list. It is simply the case that it is better to have an expert help you out with something this significant.

During investment in Indian stock or equity market, work out all possible solutions and carry out a detailed analysis of stock market. Keep reading up on the ideas and guidance given by stock market investing experts. Following do's of stock market investment are to be taken care of very well.

1. First of all, make a simple plan to determine your goals and needs.

2. Next, look at the value of the stock instead of the price because price may swing but value of stocks is retained.

3. Invest in a wide range of stocks with major portion in high profit earning stocks.

4. Choose a stock by value based on its future growth and not its past performance.

5. A golden tip for stock market investors is to buy when every one else is selling and sell your stock when everybody is buying.

Along with these, following donâ€™ts in stock market investment are also important.

1. Never put all your money in one stock.

2. Invest in some lower risk also to ensure minimum loss.

3. Don't try anything extraordinary during investment in shares.

4. Try to keep at par with trend if you can't follow it completely.

5. Don't invest on rumors. Carry out proper analysis before investing in shares

Following these tips will ensure that you earn when market earns and you loose when others also loose, instead of being a stand alone. Follow these stock, equity market investment tips and make out maximum money.
