Article published on March 5th 2012 | Business

Lawyer is a legal advisor of a company that suggest and advice on different aspects of finance, technology and trade. Company lawyers also have responsibilities to suggest different ways in respect of how to give a growth to business.

Lawyer, a solution to legitimate the business. With the rise in competition and globalization, most of businesses move beyond the boundaries of the nation, in order to find more growth with the foreign segments. These experimentations and the way of thinking bring more challenges in respect of legal business. It is always better to avail the services from any of the reputed lawyer, to make your business out of any legal issues. In the same theme, the company lawyer is employed by a company. It is first guarantor of the interests of his employer, and ensures that it remains in compliance with the law. This is a person who, knowing well his company, its organization, its working methods, the men who compose it, will search for the adequacy of its objectives with the rules of law which apply to it. Whatever the place of exercise, the company lawyer is the permanent consultant of the company for trade, finance and technology.

Corporate law firms in india:

The lawyer may have general tasks as well as more specialized tasks according to company size. Thus, it must keep abreast of legal developments in commercial law, labor law, contract law, etc. It also has a role of advising, counseling and prevention to management, operational managers and customers. It can ensure the company's external relations with professional bodies and to liaise with experts and lawyers. Advisor of the company, the lawyer settles all legal issues in respect of purchases, contracts, partnerships, lawsuits with primary mission to defend and protect the interests of the structure that employs him. Operating in a highly competitive, he was entrusted with important responsibilities. Responsible for the legal security of his company, it checks the legality of such contracts.

Here below are the some mentioned qualities, roles and responsibilities of the company lawyers that make the one perfect while performing a job as a company lawyer.

â€¢ Versatile, as it occurs in very different fields like company law, labor law.

â€¢ Fluent in English

â€¢ Rigorous skills in Civil Law including Law of Obligations and liability law.

â€¢ Availability and mobility.

â€¢ Rigor, tenacity and diplomacy.

â€¢ Real capacity for analysis and synthesis.

â€¢ Great skill in negotiations, qualities of persuasion and negotiation sense of contact and dialogue intellectual-property law firm in india

Faced with the globalization of markets, legal scholar has become a major player in business strategy and counsel necessary for their proper functioning. It can be consulted during the creation of a subsidiary, the merger with a group or a business acquisition. The main objective is to always act in the interests of society. Associated with all major business decisions, financial and technical, it assists management in the development and drafting of contracts or projects, ensures the recovery of accounts receivable as tracking customer complaints or suppliers of the company. He regularly accompanies makers during negotiations, to discuss the terms of an agreement, set the rules for future collaboration, or assess the risks of transactions with customers or partners; interlocutors are most often leaders Corporate accustomed to legal transactions. Keep abreast of changing laws, regulations and case law remains an imperative for the lawyer. His duties, however, vary by type of business where he held as a versatile SMB more specialized in one or more areas within larger companies.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/what-lawyer-brings-to-company.htm - Article Side

Rahul - About Author:
Get log on to a law firms that brings with top a patent law firms along with complete list of a law firms in India that deals in varied areas of practices including intellectual property, arbitration, commercial law, civil law and lots more.

Article Keywords: company lawyers, roles of company lawyers, law firms, top law firms in india, patent law firms, corporate law firms in india, intellectual property law firms

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!