Owning a car is a matter of pride for sure, but there are various other factors that are associated with car maintenance and care. Today there are innumerable reputed brands that manufacture different kinds of cars for varied customers. Honda is one of the most famous car brands and has developed quite a large fan following. A car manufacturing company is not only popular for its cars, but also for the after sale services that it provides, the various warranty offers and schemes that it offers, the customer care support that it provides and various other factors.

Honda used car warranty is one of the most attractive offers that the company provides. There are very few automobile companies that offer such extensive used car warranties as Honda does. This is one of the main reasons as why large numbers of people are choosing Honda over other car manufacturing companies. With the used car warranty schemes, customers can have immense peace of mind that their car is well covered and will be taken care of if maintenance and repair jobs are required in the same. They do not need to pay extensively from their pockets at that time itself.

Powertrain coverage in Honda used car warranty

The best part about Honda used car warranty is about the powertrain coverage that it provides. The powertrain coverage is extended up to 7 years or 100,000 miles, whichever comes first. However, the date that is taken into consideration is the carâ€™s original in-service date. The other items that are covered in this powertrain coverage include drive system, engine and transmission. These will be covered if there are any kinds of defects in the materials that are used or in the manufacturing process. Another interesting part is that this powertrain warranty will be extended both before and after the expiry of new car warranty offer.

Non powertrain coverage in Honda used car warranty

The non powertrain coverage in Honda used car warranty can be divided into two parts. One part is the one in which the car is purchased within the new car warranty period and the other is one in which the car is purchased after the new car warranty gets over.

â€¢ In case the car is purchased within the new car warranty period, there is an extension in the powertrain coverage by 1 year/ 12,000 miles (whichever is earlier). This takes the coverage to 4 years/48,000 miles from 3 years/36,000 miles. However, the date that is applicable is from the original in-service date. The things that are covered under this offer include heating or cooling parts, suspension, fuel system, audio repairs and maintenance of Honda systems only, electrical parts, switches and sensors, air conditioning, steering and many more.

â€¢ In case the car is purchased after the expiry of the new car warranty, the warranty is extended for a period of 1 year/12,000 miles, whichever comes first. This warranty is also applicable from the original date of purchase of the used Honda car. Other services are same as mentioned above.

It is quite clear from these clauses that Honda used car warranty is really good and different from other car companies.
