Lamonte Woods is a creative professional with many years of experience in the creative field. He works as a creative director for a major communication company and through the years he has worked on various creative projects that have benefitted from his inputs. Lamonte Woods has worked solo on projects and he has also worked with teams of professionals and guided them towards a common goal for project completion on time and within budget. His experience of working with creative individuals from across a wide field of experience makes him a valuable asset for any organization. While working with teams, he also ensures that everyone is up to date with the teamâ€™s goals and they know their required role in the projectâ€™s task list. By communicating and coordinating with the team members in a professional manner, he has delivered stupendous results creatively as well as from a business point of view.

Lamonte Woods credits his success in the creative field on his ability to focus on the task at hand and eliminate all external distractions. When he starts working on a project, he takes care that his surrounding and people around him are not able to take his attention away for a stipulated amount of time. He also turns off his cell phone and email notifications while working on important parts of any project. According to Lamonte Woods, single tasking instead of multitasking is ultimately more successful in the long term. He also adds that any creative person can get into the zone to find out their most creative side and use that impulse to make something artistic that should reach out to the intended audience and evoke a response in them. He also suggests that a creative person should never stop creating and keep on practicing their craft with dedication and zeal. Even on the days when things donâ€™t seem to work out completely, a person should move forwards in the creative pursuits.

When Lamonte Woods is not working as a creative director, he likes to play basketball in his free time. He has also played basketball professionally for 10 years in Europe. He also volunteers at The Camillus House Shelter regularly.
