Kerala can be your ideal honeymoon getaway if you are enthralled by natural surroundings. If you donâ€™t believe us just read on to know what all this state has to offer and you would surely want to visit this green paradise.

Munnar: Munnar is the most loved hill station of India. The stretched across greenery, aroma of tea and spice gardens and the wildlife will take your breath away. You can admire the exotic flowers and the carpet of green grass all around at Devikulam. You can also visit the Sita Devi lake and immerse yourselves in the calmness during evening time. In the early mornings you can have a stroll amidst the tea gardens buzzing with fragrance and we are sure such romantic moments will linger in your hearts forever. Munnar tourism is also popular for the Eravikulam National Park, here you can get closer to wildlife and also get to witness the efforts that are being taken to preserve animals in their natural habitat.

Wayanad: The waterfalls of Wayanad can be the perfect spot for you and your partner to feel the calmness of nature and the romance it brings along. The Soochipara, Kanthanpara and Meenmutty waterfalls are a must visit for honeymooners visiting Wayanad. The boat ride at Pookotte lake, watching the dense green forests, enjoying the pleasant weather with your partner will never fade away from your mind. At the Edakkal caves you can get to explore the way ancient tribes lived. Wayanad tourism has ample number of spots for you to explore and spend quality time with yourspouse.

Kumarakom: A small village situated in Kerala, Kumarakom is the backwater hub. The tranquility and natural wonders that you will witness here are unique in every sense. The lazy houseboat floating at its own pace in the backwaters will let you enjoy every moment and make it memorable for life. Kerala houseboats are equipped with every luxury you would have thought about, so whether you want to try your hand at fishing by the night sitting in your houseboat itself or enjoy cooking a romantic meal with your partner; you can do it all here.

Above mentioned are just three of the many honeymoon destinations godâ€™s own country that Kerala has to offer. This state can never stop surprising its visitors, it just depends on what you intend to do when here. Kerala honeymoon packages will surely impress you and your spouse with their natural treasures. If there is any place in India that can let you experience the wildlife, unwind in a houseboat away from the chaos of the city life, have a quiet walk on the beach, then it has to be Kerala. So donâ€™t wait for the perfect honeymoon to happen, make it happen by choosing Kerala as your preferred destination.
