Education helps a person to Achieve Success in Life by

Article published on March 15th 2012 | Education

It is said that one who has not been exposed to education, knows very little. Acquiring education is the primary step of being civilized and well-cultured. It is the procedure with the help of which society spreads its collected knowledge, skills, and values from generations to generations. Teachers guide the education of students including reading, writing, mathematics, science and history. This method is sometimes called schooling when it comes to teaching only a certain subject, usually as professors at institutions of higher learning. Various non-traditional education options are now available and continue to progress. One of the vital uses in education is the utilization of technology. The classrooms of the 21st century contain interactive white boards, tablets, mp3 players, laptops, etc. Teachers are encouraged to use these technological devices in order to enhance students learning and meet the needs of various types of learners.

A right to education has been created and recognized by jurisdictions. Education is the prime concern for the government of India. The standard of education is maintained by the University Grants Commission (UGC). Recently India has gained world recognition because many students from foreign countries come here for gaining higher qualifications. One has to be educated in order to speed up the growth process. Education is indeed a powerful weapon to stop the cut-throat competition that man faces at every phases of life. The importance of education in India is progressing with rising time. Though, India has always been a great base of gathering knowledge for many years, but it still needs to enhance not just on the value of education but the number of populace being educated as well.

Education is not just for only academic success but it makes a person better human being and a better performer too in life. Education make the students competent enough, so that they can compete nationally and internationally, many schools in small cities and towns regularly organize excursion, educational tours, seminars on current issues and try to make the students both mentally and physically strong.

To make a kid a victorious survivor in life, the duty lies in the same way with the schools and the parents also. The aim of education is the development of knowledge and the diffusion of facts. Itâ€™s the education that transforms a person to live a royal life. It imparts us with all the power and necessities in making a person successful in any field. No human being is complete in the working world until he has been educated properly. Education shows us the way to lead a flourishing lifestyle.

People who are not illiterate have less opportunity to do what they want tot do. Our country needs these educated people for the quick growth of economical condition and to uphold this growth. Educated people are believed to be much more responsible and informed citizens as compared to the uneducated mass and also possess a voice in politics and the social order, which is very much necessary for supporting social equality among the people of the country or any place across the globe.
