Is Success Proportional to the Growth of a Child by Osa Webmasterone

Article published on April 11th 2012 | Education

Children are the future of their parents who feed them and make them better citizens in a society. They need to be constantly guided and supported unless they stand on their feet by making their bright careers respectively. Every child is different right from birth. Some tend to cry all the time while many donâ€™t and some belong to both cases. The situations which each individual child faces in life bring about drastic changes in their thinking, understanding, comprehension and overall personality. The growth of a child continues right from the time they start breathing and until their 30s they keep growing up.

The counseling by parents, teachers and elders makes a huge impact on a childâ€™s overall growth. In many it has been observed that parents tend to interfere with the natural traits which they find themselves unable to cope up with. Nutrition, health, environmental factors, people around them and education, all these factors count in the determination of growth in a child or children. The different personalities among them make them stand apart from each other. Every individual has certain traits which defines the character and personality of a child.

All these factors play their roles according to the situations which arise in a childâ€™s life. Right from infancy growth in understanding and visualizing start taking place. An infant understands a motherâ€™s nod whether she says â€˜yesâ€™ or â€˜noâ€™.

They can feel pain in their hearts if their mother cries or become excited seeing her smiling. The second stage of development which is childhood starts morphing a child into a youngster who gradually needs to become career oriented which is also every parentâ€™s dream. Contribution from both sides i.e. from mother and father are equally important to mark a healthy growth among them. A father trains children to become more practical and logical while a mother always makes them warm-hearted and understanding. Similarly different traits are imbibed by them within a short span of time which can bring about a sea- change in their day to day life.

The age of puberty is when children become aware of their biological changes and many times arenâ€™t able to cope up with them. This is the onset of a new phase of life for children as well as the respective families as well. Slowly they start becoming assertive and tell about their choices which at first may seem to be unacceptable. Parents should respect their opinions and consider their thinking valid. An outright disapproval can create havoc for the family and the child too. Adolescence is a crucial time for children because during this period they get more rebellious rather than understanding.

This is a normal phenomenon but needs to be kept under control with all safeguards up. The period of adulthood also initially is very pressurizing for a student because of career responsibilities which need to be fulfilled at all costs to have a better future. Parents need to guide them even at this point of time because they donâ€™t know the way an outside world works. Lastly itâ€™s very important to gain trust among family members for both parents and children to share views all the happenings of they day. Discussing matters with parents can pool in lot of help and students will get good advice which will benefit them in future. There growth with time occurs and so does success touch studentsâ€™ feet.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/education-articles/is-success-proportional-to-the-growth-of-a-child.htm -

Osa Webmasterone - About Author:
This article has been written by a school guide of OnlineSchoolAdmissions.Com- a portal that provides free of cost consultancy to parents and schools for fast and easy online school admission. Parents can locate a schools in Delhi or a play school,s from the authentic list of schools and can apply to the schools of their choice online. Parents can also search for a schools in gurgaon according to their choice and can fill up school application forms online.

Article Keywords:
schools in Delhi ,play school,s ,schools in gurgaon

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!