The very purpose of parents sending their wards to schools is to get a quality education at the primary level. They want that their kids study the basics in the schools so that they have a good result in the board exam at the tenth standard. Another important aspect that the parents concentrate upon is the ambience and culture of the schools. Apart from the studies, the kids need to be proficient in extracurricular activities so that it helps in giving them an all round development.

Various skills are required to be honed and developed so that the kidsâ€™ personality, when they grow up, is sharp and bright. It is at this basic level that the wholesome development has to be started. It helps them grow into fine individuals with not only intelligence and knowledge, but different other skills that is praiseworthy. All of these and many more facilities are seen in the boarding schools in different cities of India, and especially in Delhi.

Boarding schools in Delhi are well known for the skills that students develop and these students have excelled in a number of fields. They take part in debates, quizzes, and such other extra-academic activities. This shows that they have the enthusiasm to take part in such activities. Not only are they competent to be part of such programs, but in many events, the students from the boarding schools in Delhi have won. This goes on to show that it is the upbringing and the education that the students receive during their stint in the boarding schools.

Students from these schools such as Carmel Convent School New Delhi, Shanti Gyan International School, CSKM Public School, Delhi Scottish School, etc have made a name for themselves and their schools, thereby increasing the popularity. The boarding schools in Panchgani are also well known for the quality of education in the different classes. The students doing well in their final board exams is a result of the regular classes and the importance laid down on curriculum.

Apart from the bookish studies, the students are encouraged to carry out different project works and assignments on their own. There are plenty of facilities of surfing through internet, reading journals and newspapers, having group discussions and such activities. By doing so, the boarding schools in Panchgani allow their students to be self dependent and at the same time encourages them to excel in whatever they do.

The same enthusiasm is seen in the students who are studying in the boarding schools in Ooty because of the age old tradition in these schools. Since they have been running since the time of Indiaâ€™s independence, it has become a well established culture among them to excel in whatever assignment they are given. Not only are they good in studies, but the extracurricular activities are also quite excellent for these students.

Schools such as Good Shepherd International School, JSS International School, Worldside School, etc are some of the well known boarding schools in Ooty where students from all over the country come and study. Being primarily residential in nature, these schools allow the students to develop themselves in various fields. Along with the academics, students learn a lot about culture and other aspects of life by living with other kids from different regions, religions and backgrounds.
