Medical Transcription Outsourcing Companies - an Overview by MTS Transcription Service

Article published on November 29th 2011 | Business

Medical transcription outsourcing is an affordable way of streamlining your transcription jobs and gain in terms of both money and time. Utilizing the skills of highly skilled and experienced medical transcribers, reliable medical transcription companies provide accurate, superior quality and confidential transcription of important patient information.

Individual physicians, dentists, group practices, clinicians, multi-specialty groups, acute care facilities, long term care facilities, medical office administrators and other healthcare entities can outsource medical transcription and benefit from customized digital medical transcription services. Medical transcription service providers with long term experience in the field can support you efficiently.

Benefit from a Range of Supportive Features

To deliver premium medical transcription outsourcing services, medical transcription companies have an expert team of medical transcriptionists, quality analysts, proofreaders, editors and other staff. Utilizing state-of-the-art technology, dictation equipment and software tools, they transcribe your patient histories, diagnostic reports, referrals, clinic notes, physical examination notes, x-ray reports, laboratory summaries, operative reports and more.

Being a busy healthcare professional, you can benefit from medical transcription services in so many ways - save your valuable time, reduce operating cost, simplify workload, improve productivity, gain access to expertise, enhance revenue, improve office efficiency and more. Besides, outsourcing to a good service provider also helps healthcare facilities to eliminate the additional investment needed for maintaining transcription experts and equipment for carrying out in-house medical transcription.

Medical transcription services offered by medical transcription companies come with advantages such as automated electronic report distribution, document flow management system, electronic medical record solution, web-based file transfer, availability of full work-flow modules and more.

Things to Look for when Hiring a Medical Transcription Company

When you hire a medical transcription company, you are choosing a partner for your business. A reliable medical transcription company can make a big difference in the way in which your healthcare organization functions. Ensure that you choose a reliable company that has been positively reviewed by other medical practices.

If you are planning to outsource medical transcription, there are some important considerations you need to take into account before making your choice.

â€¢ Years of experience the company has in the field

â€¢ Pricing

â€¢ Security, privacy, and continuity terms

â€¢ Turnaround time

â€¢ Whether the firm assures 3 levels of quality assurance

â€¢ Whether skilled and experienced professionals are at your service

â€¢ HIPAA compliance

â€¢ Whether your service provider follows FTP for dispatching the transcribed files through encrypted sites for more security

â€¢ Whether the company provides flexible dictation options

â€¢ Whether it offers 24 hour customer service

Medical transcription outsourcing companies can be of great support as they can help you right from the time of dictation capture up to document distribution. Nowadays, medical transcription companies are rapidly growing in number. So, it can be quite challenging for you to find a firm that meets your transcription needs. The internet is a great resource to find a medical transcription outsourcing company that can be your ideal partner.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/medical-transcription-outsourcing-companies-an-overview.htm - Article Side

MTS Transcription Service - About Author:
MTS Transcription Services (MTS) is an established a medical transcription company in the US, offering comprehensive a medical transcription solutions for a wide range of clientele.

Article Keywords:
medical transcription service, medical transcription outsourcing, medical transcription, medical transcription company

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!