Article published on January 21st 2012 | Entertainment

The ideal holiday for a family is where they get to spend a lot of time together. The best way to do this is to select an activity holiday where the whole family engages in one activity throughout. One of the more popular options is cycling holidays. With more and more vacationers selecting cycling as an activity, several countries in Europe have developed infrastructure necessary for cycling through. With the wide range of terrains and sceneries to choose from, you have plenty of options. There are many destinations you can head to for a biking holiday. Here are some of the best places in Europe for cycling.

Portugal

Portugal should be at the top of your list when selecting a country to visit on a biking holiday. It has beautiful landscape which is pleasing to the eyes. The trip is going to take you through the length and breadth of Portugal, starting off in Porto where you can taste fresh wine along the way. You will go all the way up to Coimbra. On the way, you will get to experience the best that Portugal has to offer in terms of sights and flora and fauna.

Italy

Italy is one of the foremost countries to welcome holidaymakers on their cycles. They have developed lanes for them to ride in and you can cycle through Italy from end to end without having to encounter traffic. Italy is a beautiful country, blessed abundantly by nature. An added incentive is the food. The exotic and sumptuous dishes are available in small eateries and cafes along the way. When you are cycling so much, you will have a good appetite.

Spain

Dripping with its culture, Spain will provide you the best sights you can see. One of the many features of Spain is the mountain terrain. If you are a mountain biking enthusiast, cycling holidays in Spain are for you. You can also see the small villages and towns which Spain has a large number of. You can experience the Hispanic culture firsthand on your biking trip.

France

France is also a good choice for a family cycling holiday. In France, you can cycle along the coast and see the numerous beaches across the country. You can stop and swim for as long as you like. It will help you ease of the fatigue of cycling a lot. Like Spain, France also has some old places and cities which are wonderful to visit. You can pick up the French culture along the way. Plus, the French wine is world class!

These are some of the best countries to go to if you are interested in cycling holidays in Europe with your family and friends.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/entertainment-articles/cycling-holidays-best-destinations-in-europe.htm - Article Side

Thomasgalvin - About Author:
Find a Cycling Holidays and a Cycling Holidays In Spain related information at a www.catalanadventures.com

Article Keywords:
Guided Walking Holidays

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!