Pediatric Surgery, a specialized branch of General surgery is of great demand today. It has been a separate surgical super-speciality which treats just born (new born) up to eighteen years of age, for the past forty years. This branch of surgery requires exceptional skills and experience as the patients are much weaker than the adults.

There is a huge demand for efficient pediatric surgeons specialized in different branches of Pediatry, including the pediatric laparoscopic surgeon, pediatric urologist, pediatric neonatal surgeon etc.

In India, there are a lot of childcare hospitals with specialized surgeons to handle even the most severe cases. The different departments in the Pediatric branch are handled by professionals here.

Some of the important branches in Pediatric Surgery include:

Pediatric Urology

Pediatric Urology has been a specialized branch of Pediatric surgery for the past 30 years. Almost 40 % of pediatric surgical cases are pediatric Urology. Some of the hospitals have separate unit for pediatric Urology with skilled surgeons (pediatric urologist Chennai).

Infants with Urological problem show symptoms like High fever, fits, loose stools and dehydration. Children with pediatric Urology problem need detailed history, clinical examination, imaging with USG, CT Scan, DTPA and specialized investigations like MCU (Micturiting Cysto Urethrogram). These tests are performed in hospitals under the supervision of doctors.

Chennai is one of the cities in South India with the most sought-after hospitals for Pediatric surgery and well known pediatric surgeon Chennai. Performing numerous successful surgeries a day they are experts in diagnosing and providing treatment to infants and children.

The Chennai Doctors website is a portal where all the efficient doctors from around the world, renowned surgeons and other health care specialists come together to interact, share their knowledge on all the common problems and to provide a platform where guidance are provided or received with ease.
