Always parents have been in worry about the future of their children. So, they put pressure on their higher studies as it is the way to their success. Even they forced their children to take part in the rewarding as well as prestigious job programs. So many fresherâ€™s search for the job with their degrees in handbut today the whole idea has been changed and the reason is that many students aspire for the sarkari naukri in India.

Today Sarkari naukri has increased its charm as so many foreign investors are coming to invest in this way. From years India has been the center of notice to the world. World has been faced recession as well as bankruptcy and after that they need eligible as well as affordable hard workers, which are also fresherâ€™s and that is the prime reason they show more interest in Indian fresher. Due to employment in India here fresherâ€™s agreed to work at cheaper rate. Even they are intelligent and hard working too. So, they got the good rate at the cheaper rate.

Another reason is that our country is a developing country and the economy depends on foreign involvement. Even the stock is also dependent over the foreign involvement. This is not good for only fresherâ€™s but also experienced person has got new chances to work in different countries. People also here have big dreams in their eyes and so the amount given by foreign investors attracted them to work for them. Also, fresh brains from India have high demand in foreign market. Also, to get job is also not a difficult task as they have to first passa written test and after that they have to appear or interview.

Even after recession, Government jobs for fresherâ€™s has become the important slogan. So many fresherâ€™s lost their jobs at the recession period and now the situation is under control and now the scene is sarkari naukri without fresherâ€™s is like any engine which has no fuel. Even it has become two sides of a coin. They canâ€™t be separated by any thought. Sarkari naukri and Fresherâ€™s are know as the backbone of the any of the project.

It is even true that improvement of any company depends over the fresherâ€™s. To stand in the competitive market one has to rely over fresh minds as they are full of thoughts and ideas and this proves wonderful in unethical world of jobs or corporate. It is true that there are not so many sarkari naukri in government jobs for new people but it can be spread in huge number of candidates according to their abilities. Because fresherâ€™s are known for the revolutionary ideas and daring attitude, so are the first choice of companies.
