Sapphire Rings â€“ Giving Beauty a New Name

by Vishnu Batwra

Article published on December 13th 2011 | Jewelry

Sapphire is a beautiful gemstone which is easily and readily available in different colors like yellow, orange, blue, green, and pink and purple, so as they are available in plentiful colors, they enhance the elegance and grace of about every jewel they are used in. Sapphire rings enhance the joy of wedding celebration with their beauty and charm. Sapphire wedding rings will be pure embellishments that appear a direct blessing from the paradise.

Sapphire is referred as corundum that is made up of trigonal crystals which have aluminium oxide structure. And also ruby and sapphire are from the same family. Only their color spots the difference between the two identical precious gemstones. Sapphire rings would be the best option available after diamond rings. Blue sapphire ring is a promise of engagement because of its fidelity and according to biblical times.

Sapphires mounted with diamond create a unimaginable jewel which will beautify about every occasion. Blue sapphire ring in conglomeration with diamonds will give aristocratic looks which would go with any attire.

The intensity and royalty of sapphire engagement ring especially comes with the quality and color of sapphires used in it.

The most worthwhile fancy sapphires are in pinkish-orange color, which is also termed as â€œpadparadschaâ€• the most precious sapphires have vivid blue color, but if these sapphires mixed with other colors like, grayish, black or green, it would reduce itâ€™s value.

Sapphires are most often in shape of cushion, rounded rectangle or an oval. Star sapphires are popular among menâ€™s rings and are becoming rare. Body color of the sapphire, shape of the star, â€œlegsâ€• of the star, sleekness of rays of the star or sharpness of the star determines the star sapphires Pink sapphire rings are best for women, so as per engagement purpose pink sapphire engagement ring would be trendy as well as will be well appreciated by the fiancÃ©e. Generally colored stones are often deeper than diamonds because of the weight on bottom with enriched and vivid colors.

One can even go for personalized sapphire engagement ring where one is flexible to design his/her own ring.

Therefore, to actualize your grand wedding celebration much more magnificent, purchase a sapphire ring which would actually brighten up and stylize your special one-time moment in life.

Sapphire engagement ring would a decent and best option to consider for your engagement as it is harder in nature and also has a royal touch. It is among those stones which are never out of fashion.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/jewelry-articles/sapphire-rings-giving-beauty-a-new-name.htm - Article Side

Vishnu Batwra - About Author:
The author is an experienced and acknowledged person in writing about a sapphire rings and a sapphire engagement rings. For more visit the website, http://www.gemsny.com/

Article Keywords:
sapphire engagement rings,sapphire rings

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!