What to Remember when Choosing Business Cards by Marc Levack

Article published on February 14th 2012 | Advertising

When using business card printing services, itâ€™s of the utmost importance to consider certain significant aspects that will provide the most positive results. These vital aspects are key in maintaining brand integrity for any size business or organization. Aspects beginning with design, information and message are standard. Aspects that can make you stand and get noticed include your choice in business card sizes, paper weight, finishes and overall quality of printing. Business cards are the face of a company and a direct reflection of its brand. They are the most economical and equally effective marketing tools to support an array of employees from large corporations to the local small business down the street.

For this reason, many businesses today put extra emphasize on the quality of print. A well designed, sturdy and professional looking business card can have a huge impact on the recipient. Youâ€™ve acquired their attention with the quality of the card and now they may take that extra time to review your company brand and message. A professionally designed and printed business card on a good quality print paper can hold a lot of weight when it comes to marketing yourself, your business or getting your message across to a potential client.

Knowing the importance and the affect a professional looking business card can have today, many companies spend time reviewing the message, renewing their brand and sometimes even hiring a marketing company to assist them in creating an image or updating an existing one. Once the final look is approved the next step is to find a professional online printing company who not only provides a variety of unique features and finishes but also services each customers print job, no matter how small or large an order may be, with professionalism and of the highest standards of customer service. Itâ€™s important to have this final process run smoothly, especially after all the effort thatâ€™s brought you to the printing process. Finding the best printing company is crucial. Here are some key components you should look for before choosing the best printer for your business cards:

1. Professionalism

2. Wide variety of features such as UV Coating, Silk Laminated, Inline Foil, Foil, Spot UV, Rounded Corners and the thickest paper stock as a standard without inflating the price.

3. Quality Assurance that can help to avoid manufacturing or production errors

4. A printer that will stand behind their work, working with the client to resolve any issues and if needed, initiate a reprint

5. Fast Turnaround times as a standard, not an additional charge

6. Attentive Customer Service: Printer should be available by phone, online chat and email and based in your country of origin

From the moment you decide to create or recreate your business cards, a process begin that should be smooth and have positive results. Your brand is represented on your business cards and direct reflection of your company. Choosing the best online printing company is therefore a crucial step in receiving a final product that will help you stand out in todayâ€™s competitive business marketplace.

Article Source:

http://www.articleside.com/advertising-articles/what-to-remember-when-choosing-business-cards.htm - Article Side

Marc Levack - About Author:
The Author is associated with UV Cards. UV Cards offers high quality and unique a business cards, brochures, door hangers, envelopes, greeting cards, a inline foil, letterhead, magnets, notepads, a plastic cards, postcards, posters, presentation folders, stickers, sell sheets, table tents, vinyl banners, etc at competitive prices.

Article Keywords:
business card printing, business cards, business card, silk laminated, Spot UV, UV coated business cards, inline foil, online printing company

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!