A wise fellow once said â€˜itâ€™s not the winning, itâ€™s the taking part that countsâ€™ but how many o believe this and, as we cross the finish line in last position think â€˜wow, Iâ€™m really glad now that I sper months training for this event only to win nothing!â€™

Not many of us can say that in life, we donâ€™t relish the thought of being in pole position, nor can we honestly state that being a loser gives us any sense of achievement at all.

If you are organising a competition or an event â€“ sporting, animal based or otherwise â€“ have you thought of how you might pick up the fallen; rise them from the ashes and get them geed up for the next epic event? Personalised sashes can be a great idea to make those feel better who have otherwise fallen at the final hurdle.

Personalised sashes neednâ€™t just be for the winners- although â€˜1st placeâ€™ personalised sashes a great addition to any personal â€˜hall of fameâ€™ â€“ no, personalised sashes can be adorned with any number of statements like â€˜Most Graciousâ€™ or â€˜Great sportsmanship.â€™ In fact, depending on yo Personalised Sashes can state anything!

Personalised sashes are ideal for any event. For example, personalised sashes are perfect for rewarding superb riding at an equestrian event or even the terrific appearance of a calf in a cattle show and, not only can personalised sashes be custom made for their riders and owners but did you also know that personalised sashes can even be created to the distinct measurements of horses and cattle alike?

Furthermore, if you are the teacher at a school, what better way to acknowledge 100% attendance or fantastic citizenship than with personalised sashes? Personalised sashes not only tell a child that they did great, they also recognise an achievement above and beyond what can be done with a simple gold star sticker that remains on their shirt for all of five minutes before it curls and crumbles under the humid indoor conditions of a classroom.

Winning Rosettes are currently reigning supreme as one of the UK leading suppliers of personalised sashes and rosettes. On offer in their vast range of personalised sashes, they currently boast: lay over sashes for dogs and sheep; 4ft personalised sashes for children; 5ft personalised sashes for ponies; 6ft personalised sashes for horses and even; 7ft personalised sashes for cattle!
