Brisbane Film Schools â€“ Great Learning to Have in Just a Weekend of Schooling by Kenedy Olson

Article published on February 2nd 2012 | Education

Weekend is the day for the family and that is also called the family day. Weekend is also the time for relaxation and to rest from the tiring weekdays that had past. It is the time to unwind, feel the joy of not thinking the work and the other stuffs that bother us. But how will you respond with the question, â€œAre you willing to learn about film making in just one weekend or two days?â€•

Weekend school for film making of the Brisbane Film Schools is giving an opportunity for the students to learn a lot with the said school all about film making. This type of schooling is proposed because of the fact that many people want to learn about film making but because of the work they had is that they canâ€™t go to the school.

The school is assuring the students that they will really learn in the school even though it is only a weekend of schooling. In the said school is also came the best teacher that the student can have and that is Colm Oâ€™ Murchu. He is one of Australiaâ€™s prides in film making, with the awards that he has, he has proven that he deserves to be a top quality film maker. He is also been teaching for the past years wanting to have students that will be a good film maker. With the numbers of movies that he made, he already knew some techniques that will help the students that he will teach.

Various teaching methods are also been used Film Schools in Brisbane so that the students then can capitalize on the learning that will be take on. The most used process is the hands-on process in which the students are also supervised by the teacher and so that the proper use of the equipments will be learn. Another important that will be taught is the camera handling. Camera as the eye of the movie should have a good shots and angles and if not then it will not be a very good movie to watch. Angles are very important so that is what will be improved in the film school. Thinking as one of the crew in the film making industry will also boosts the learning of the students and that is by role playing but instead of just role playing is that realistic movie will be made while in the learning process. But instead of a student will be the director or the script writer is that all of the students will play the role of all the crew in making the film making.

Limited numbers of students are only welcomed in the school per school session and that is because the school management wants the students to really learn and with limited students then the teacher can focus on the students so that they can have the knowledge that they need.

It is clearly that a student can really learn with just two days or a weekend and that the students can have all the knowledge that is needed and that is only in Brisbane Film Schools.
