DSSSB Result: an Event Awaited with Eagerness by Thousands of Candidates by Preeti

Article published on January 12th 2012 | Education

For any kind of result, the importance is never possible to be undermined because hopes, aspirations, future, and many other things are intricately associated with it. The result is the culmination of the efforts of the candidates which has been put through all the years of hardship and college education. It is therefore obvious that the declaration of the results would be the most anticipated event of the whole scenario of examination.

The picture of the declaration of DSSSB result is not very different from other exams. But still, people, who have appeared in the exams conducted by DSSSB or Delhi Subordinate Staff Selection Board, await their results with bated breath. Most of the jobs under the recruitment of this board are related to the Group â€œBâ€• and â€œCâ€• and these range across different organisations under the Dell government such as NDMC, MCD and the Delhi Territory or NCR.

Posts Recruited:

The posts which are under the purview of the DSSSB are related to teachership, nursing, pharmacist, stenographer, laboratory assistants, office assistants, and many others. Most of the exams are held in form of written exams where the candidates are required to appear in subjects as per their qualifications and the profile of the jobs. Thereafter, when the written DSSSB result is out, the qualifying students will have to appear in interview rounds.

Some posts are directly recruited from the interview round and therefore these candidates will have to only wait for the respective DSSSB interview result. Although, awaiting the result of any exam is difficult by holding patience for the stipulated period, yet for the examinees of exams conducted by the board it is worth the wait.

There are so many exams conducted by the board, but still, it has endeavoured to bring out the results in the right time as mentioned in the prospectus or in the advertisement for the jobs. Sometimes there are delays due to unavoidable reasons, but still, they are tried to be published as early as possible, because the future of a lot of candidates is hanging in balance due to the results. Once the DSSSB results are out, people who have qualified will be able to join in their respective jobs while those who couldnâ€™t make it, will move on and try for some other exam or attempt the same exam another time with better preparations. Hence, the significance of the results for DSSSB or any other exam cannot be underrated.

Different scenarios of anticipation:

In general, the result holds lot of importance for different classes of people with respect to the DSSSB examination results.

The jobs which are advertised for the different posts in Delhi and the capital region in the Government of Delhi are at times for very young people. When the results are declared, they can join the jobs and start their careers as per their educational qualifications from a very young age. Such people might not be affected as much with the results, because they have other chances in life.

In some cases, the jobs are of immense importance for the people. Their families might be depending on it or there might not be any more chance left for another attempt due to the reaching of the age limit. For such people, the anticipation of the job is very high and the outcome affects them to a great extent.

Like any other result, the DSSSB result is eagerly anticipated by people. Although the outcome might be a success or a failure, yet the publication of the result is important as it will dispel any uncertainty and people can move along, for which the board takes every step for quick publication.
