Have you made a list of the top 40 things to do before you die yet? If you did, would Paintballing make the grade? If youâ€™ve already tried Paintballing in the past youâ€™ll know what all the fuss is abo if you havenâ€™t, itâ€™s not too late to take part. The popularity of Paintballing has reached epic proportions in the UK itâ€™s one of the most popular outdoor activities. Itâ€™s great fun for adults and Paintballing can even be booked for Kids Parties these days aimed at the 11 â€“ 15 year old sector.

Paintballing is a thrill-a-minute type of adventure and for anyone that hasnâ€™t tried it before itâ€™s one o those activities that you really must try before you get too old.

What to expect

Most Paintballing adventures are based outdoors in large woodland settings and this gives players plenty of room to run around. The premise of Paintballing is pretty simple, you are split into groups and the aim of the game is wipe out the enemy using the power of paint. Each player is given a Paintball gun, protective overalls, a mask and battlepack, plus a set amount of paintballs. They become part of an elite group that has to track and trace the enemy then blow them away using their Paintballing weapons.

Paintballing is fun, affordable and itâ€™s ideal for adult-only fun, plus itâ€™s brilliant for Kids Parties as we Be warned though. Paintballing is also very addictive and once youâ€™ve given it a try youâ€™ll be head back for more.

How long do you get?

As long as you like! Paintballing sessions are run throughout the day, full day packages tend to run from 9am to 4pm. Or you can choose morning only sessions for Paintballing or arrange to have Kids Parties in the afternoon. Book in advance and you can rock-up on the day with a group of pals and have a fabulous adventure taking part in numerous daring Paintballing activities. As you lay crouched behind a tree, trying to control your breathing whilst the enemy approaches youâ€™ll understand why Paintballing is such a brilliant type of pastime.

Add Paintballing to your list of things to do before you die and thatâ€™s one adventure you wonâ€™t regre
