It is not even Christmas yet but already the fashion world is getting excited for upcoming clothing trends for 2012. But for now, Monkey Clothing has all the tips and advice you need on what to wear this season. There may only be one month left of 2011 but that doesnâ€™t mean fashionistas can curl up under their duvets and wait for the New Year to show off the latest looks. Get on trend this December with essential festive party wear and smart shirts, so the office party spotlight is on you and your merrymaking outfit.

Away from the bars and clubs, make sure you look perfect to kiss under the mistletoe with an outside edge wardrobe that puts a modern slant on the old British heritage ensemble. Monkey have just started stocking the perfect label which reflects this trend called Jack Orton which is the brand that consists of the conventional countryside quilted hunting jacket. Refresh your wardrobe for the chilly month with statement t-shirts and the popular brand that has the coolest teedesigns on the planet is The Cuckooâ€™s Nest.

If you are planning on finding some romance during the holiday, make sure you look the part at the seasonal parties. Adding a white or black polo is an ideal alternative to donning a shirt and Luke 1977 clothing at Monkey has a vast array of styles to choose from. A blazer can be worn with jeans, chinos or smart pants to get into the celebratory spirit and Luke 1977 has the perfect menâ€™s black jacket. If you are worried that the outfit looks too chic with a blazer, downgrade the ensemble with some TOMS footwear for a dapper-casual look.

Whilst the fashion experts dish the dirt on Decemberâ€™s fashion trends for males of all ages across the UK, they also offer valuable insight into crazes for women for this time of year. Essentially, it is all about the black magic and gold colour scheme and TOMS have some incredibly cute flat black sequinned shoes for women who want to dress up this Christmas but not wear high heels. Shoes and accessories are very important in completing an outfit but fundamentally, this month fashion loves premium and statement dresses. Religion clothing womens dresses can help any girl stand out from the crowd and find Mr Right for 2012. The black twisted dresses and plunging neck lines will transform any ugly duckling into a princess for the ball.

Industry insiders predict glitter, glam and sparkles for girly Christmas clothing and the Ringspun black dress which can be found at Monkey Clothing is the perfect example; alongside another Religion black dress whichglistenswhen it moves because of all the shimmer on it. Or alternatively, if you are unsure what to buy your female loved-one for Christmas and you are frantically worried that you will not find something in the next three weeks, then why not consider purchasing the fantastic gemstones gift box that is both on-trend and practical. So now you know what the fashion trends are for the rest of the year, update your wardrobe at Monkey Clothing.
