'Health is wealth' - this is probably a very often repeated statement that we all get to hear especially when our diets are wrong and we are ill. Taking care of your loved ones is something that we all do and can go to any extent in this regard. Admitting your parents or elders or anyone else in your family to a hospital or a care centre means that we want them to recover at the earliest and come back home. Many a times we discover some time later that the fees charged was not what it should have been. The fees charged for nursing care recovery is at times a lot more than what should have been the actual bill.

Scenario in general:

The current situation is such that many of us are unaware of the laws and rules regarding nursing care facilities and nursing care recovery. Hence, the care centre does not bother to apprise us of the same. Therefore, you will find that most of the patients or their relatives who admit their loved ones to nursing care facility are kept in the dark with an intention to cheat them of their hard earned money. With Hugh James, you are made to realize that there are certain stringent laws, rules and regulations regarding nursing home charges and that nursing care recovery are a reality.
