Why Should Businesses Use Reusable Shopping Bags in USA?

by Alison Porter

Article published on August 16th 2012 | Shopping

Gone are the days when consumers used to trust businesses blindly. In 2012 people have become smarter, more economical, and more aware of the products they purchase. There are two upcoming trends: being eco friendly and buying American made. The combination of reusable shopping bags made in the USA is a very attractive product and helps businesses promote themselves to their customers. Below you will find a few reasons why businesses should print their logo on a reusable shopping bag that is made in the USA.

The bags can be used over and over.

Reusable shopping bags can be used multiple times; it will actually save money for the businesses because they will not need to buy as many traditional plastic bags.

The bags are manufactured in the USA.

The economic climate in America could use improvement. A significant number of people are unemployed; many are actively job hunting. By purchasing goods that are made in the USA, you are supporting job stability and growth for the country.

People actually use this promotional product.

There are a lot of promotional products out there that are not worth the money spent on them. Some promotional products are never even used, but simply put in a cabinet or thrown away. People love using reusable shopping bags when they go shopping.

The reusable bags work like billboard advertising.

As people will actually use these reusable bags, your logo will be displayed all over the place. Anywhere that the person decides to take the bag other people will also see your logo. It will help advertise your brand at no extra cost.

Environmentally friendly

In addition to simply being reusable, these recycled shopping bags are often made from recycled, recyclable, or organic material. Cotton canvas is one of the most environment friendly fabrics because it is biodegradable and can be produced organically.

These bags add value to the businesses

A combination of an eco friendly bag, made in the USA and the business whose logo is printed on the front will look great to their customers. Customers will appreciate the fact that a company is taking so much effort to become environmentally conscious and purchasing American made products.

Reusable bags can encourage repeat business.

Some businesses have in print their logo on the bags and a marketing phrase similar to "Get this bag back and receive 5% off on your purchases!" People love saving money, and the business wins too because the customers are eager to return to save money. It's a win-win situation for both parties.

Reusable shopping bags with logo printed in the USA is a great way for businesses to promote themselves. The businesses benefit by gaining a good reputation from the customers, and advertising as the bag is toted around. At the same time the customers will appreciate getting a shopping bag that they can use for years to come.

Howard Packagingâ€™s sales group is the best trained, most creative group in the retail packaging industry. For more information you may log on to www.howardpkg.com

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/shopping-articles/why-should-businesses-use-reusable-shopping-bags-in-usa.htm - Article Side

Alison Porter - About Author:
Alison Porter holds a B.F.A degree in Industrial Design from University of Illinois at Chicago in 1989. He started his career as a Customer Service representative in Howard Decorative Packaging till 1990. After that he moved into sales department and in 1995 he become inside sales manager. He become Sales/Creative Director of the Howard Decorative Packaging in 2000 and currently holds the same position.

Article Keywords:
reusable shopping bag,,recycled shopping bags

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!