Cosmetic Dentistry Helps in Improving Your Dental Health by J. Ladd Williams

Article published on May 1st 2012 | Health

Cosmetic Dentistry as the name suggests, itâ€™s used to refer to any dental work that is very helpful in improving the appearance of personâ€™s teeth, gums or bite. Professionals that are involved in these works are called cosmetic dentists. Mainly, there are two types of dental surgeries are performed in dental esthetics or cosmetics. The first one is Prosthodontics and the second is Orthodontics. Such specialists are called Prosthodontisits and Orthodontists respectively. Along with these processes, there are various other methods that are using in cosmetic dentistry as per the patientsâ€™ circumstances and situations.

Cosmetic bonding is one of the most effective methods used in dental health in Phoenix, Arizona. This method refers to use a tooth-colored resin to reshape a tooth. Broken, cracked or chipped teeth can be repaired using composite bonding. It is also used in reshaping an irregularly shaped tooth, improving the color of the smile as well as filling up thin gaps between teeth. Cosmetic dentist use to shine an UV (ultra-violet) light over the material to harden it after composite bonding resin is applied to the teeth and shaped perfectly. Dental veneers are usually made of porcelain and sometimes it can also be made out of resin. With dental adhesive, Veneers are sturdy caps are glued to the teeth.

There are some differences between Veneers and Cosmetic bonding. Veneers are used to drastically improve a toothâ€™s appearance whereas Cosmetic bonding is mainly used to restore a tooth. It can enlarge the size of the teeth as well as easily brighten the smile so that they look more natural and improve the color of the patientâ€™s smile. Dental veneers are also helpful to restore a broken tooth, to close the gap between teeth as well as to reshape a chipped tooth. A cosmetic dentist can only be able to tell you that which process would be most beneficial and well suited for you such as from veneers or from cosmetic bonding. In these scenarios, you must consult to a dentist who can help in improving your smile and decrease the risk of tooth decay.

There are vast numbers of cosmetic dentist in Arizona and you can choose the best one for your treatment. You should always choose a dentist there who has made a reputation in the market over the time. Moreover, they could provide professional treatments at affordable cost which should be within your financial budget. You must consider these things in choosing a cosmetic dentist in Phoenix, Arizona.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/health-articles/cosmetic-dentistry-helps-in-improving-your-dental-health.htm - Article Side

J. Ladd Williams - About Author:
At his modern, comfortable office, experienced cosmetic dentist Dr. J. Ladd Williams provides the a Mesa, Phoenix, and Scottsdale areas . For more information please visit: a Cosmetic Dentistry Az

Article Keywords:
cosmetic dentist, mesa , scottsdale, arizona, dr j ladd williams, sedation dentistry, cosmetic dentistry, cosmetic dentistry az, sedation dentistry az

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!