Article Side
Adrenaline Rush and Adventure Tourism in India by Amitkumarana

Article published on January 6th 2012 | Travel

If you want to Tour India to indulge in different adventure activities, then you will not be disappointed. India is the 7th largest country in the world by land and its varied terrains will give you tons of opportunities of indulging in different kind of adventures. Every year, tourists from around the world go on different â€˜Tours Indiaâ€™ to participate in adventure activities like river rafting, mountain climbing, jungle walks, kayaking, skiing, boating, scuba diving etc. A large portion of Himalayas, the highest mountain range in the world, lies in India and the Himalayan territory is a heaven for people who want to get an adrenaline rush through adventure activities.

Mountain climbing - The upper and lower Himalayan regions in the state of Himachal Pradesh, Uttaranchal and Arunachal Pradesh are the best places for mountain climbing. There are many reputed agencies offering mountain climbing services, whose services you can hire during your India tours. Apart from mountain climbing, these states have many beautiful cities, towns and hill stations that one can visit during their India Travel.

River Rafting & Kayaking - these two adventure activities also take place in the Himalayan states. The rivers in the Himalayan region have the necessary force needed for river rafting and kayaking and so, tourists from around the world travel to the Indian Himalayan region for such adventure activities. In places like Sikkim, Dehradun, Darjeeling and Ziro, one can find many institutes that will train people about the art of rafting and the safety measures to taken during rafting. During your India tour, you can easily avail the services of such institutes. Most people indulge in these activities during their India travel.

Paragliding - India also offers wonderful opportunities for paragliding. In the Indian state of Maharashtra, there are many avenues for paragliding. Travel India agencies can help you to get in touch with paragliding schools in the city of Pune and the hill station of Mahabaleshwar, (these two places are very near to the city of Mumbai). The Western Ghats have very scenic views and fresh air that one can enjoy during paragliding in this part of the world. You can enroll yourself in a short paragliding course, during your India tours.

Jungle Walks - India has millions of acres of forest lands, national parks and wildlife sanctuaries where people can encounter many different species of birds and animals. These forests and wildlife sanctuaries can be found in almost all the states and union territories of India. People can go for Jungle walks and Jungle Safaris and explore the rich flora and fauna of the country. The noted wildlife sanctuaries in India are Jim Corbett National Park, Kaziranga National Park, and Ranthambore National Park etc. People can also visit the Sundarbans in West Bengal, which houses the maximum number of tigers and is a UNESCO world heritage site.

Thus, we can say that India tours can offer you with many opportunities of adventure. India travel will be a wonderful experience full of adventure and fun.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-articles/adrenaline-rush-and-adventure-tourism-in-india.htm - Article Side

Amitkumarana - About Author:
If you are planning to travel to India, browse our a Tour Packages in India . You can also read more about a India Tour Package at http://www.wildplanettours.com/tours/india

Article Keywords:
Tour Packages in India,India Tour Package

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!