People age, sagging skin can not be avoided. To avoid this, they buy creams, face wash, and tighten the skin. Some of them even go for surgeries just to look young. What do they know that facial skin tightening treatments are home remedies.

It's not just that people look young, but these natural remedies to protect their faces and there is a way cheaper.

Using the astringent is often one of the best skin tightening treatment. It can be at home, just use lemon juice, honey, rosemary and witch hazel. All these ingredients have astringent properties to tighten the skin. They also have antibacterial and anti-inflammatory components. Application of rosemary on his face, as well as promoting blood circulation.

Each of these components can be run separately, astringent, but they can be mixed with other ingredients to create the best skin tightening mixture. They are almond oil, milk or rose water. Almond oil moisturizes the skin and have astringent properties. Milk is also an effective moisturizer.

Rose water can also work as an astringent, and can deal with the inflammation of the skin.

Masks are one of the best skin tightening procedures. One mask, which can be easily created with honey. Apply honey on your face and let it dry for 20 minutes. Warm water rinse.

You can also use egg white to tighten the skin immediately. Just spread it on your face and leave to dry for 5 minutes. With a clean face towel, scrub it off your face. You can also rinse with warm water and egg white.

The skin is always exposed to the sun's rays, free radicals and thereby causes the dead skin pollution by harmful sun rays. It is therefore important to remove dead skin and stimulate new growth. This can be achieved by means of skin cleaning and exfoliating later.

Natural skin cleansers can be made from fruits such as pineapple, papaya, apples, oranges, grapes or berries of any kind. Just make sure the paste of the fruit together and add milk and honey.

Spread on your face in circular motions for several minutes using a paste. Wash your face with warm water.

Facial exercise is also one of the best skin tightening methods. Forehead with your fingers touch your eyebrows. Raise your eyebrows as you pull them with your fingers. The eyes, wide open at the same time, raise your eyebrows.

You can also tighten the skin around the cheeks. Touch each of them with three fingers and push down the cheeks. At the same time, a smile as wide as you can until you feel the cheeks raised high enough.

Around your lips should also be strengthened, because they also tend to sag. For this you need to use your index finger. Suck hard and then release your finger. Tighten your chin and neck, sit comfortably and look forward to. Put your index finger and thumb on the neck.

While you can raise your head as you can pull down on the neck.
