The Best Places to Stay in San Juan Puerto Rico by Azel Bailey

Article published on July 17th 2012 | Travel

San Juan has numerous top class hotels that cater to tourists all round the year. These hotels are well maintained and clean in keeping with the reputation of San Juan as a major tourist destination.

The beach areas of Condado and Isla Verde have some of the best hotels that offer a variety of luxury features for tourists and business travellers. There is something for the budget traveller too. If you venture inland, you are most likely to get some cheap staying destinations with modern amenities. These places are well maintained and give you a homely feeling.

Those who prefer staying on the beach, there are a number of cheap staying options to explore. Most of them are located within walking distance from the main places of tourist attractions. The Orcas is the biggest of all islands in San Juan and can be a great place to use as a vacation base. The place has everything that you want to enjoy as a tourist; the highest mountain and the best natural views ever.

Lopez is a wonderful place to stay put if you want to move at a slow pace. The island has a relaxed rhythm and is a great place to shop and have some fun on rented bikes. There are some fantastic farm rooms that you can hire if you want to stay right on the water.

Friday Harbor is a good place to stay if you want to experience the wonderful whale tour. There are affordable lodgings that offer a comfortable stay. There are a multitude of restaurants in the area that offer the finest dining experience right from open air bistros to some superb ice cream parlors. Friday Harbor can be a central pint for you to stay and explore the other San Juan Islands or Victoria on Vancouver Islands. There are Washington State inter-island ferries that can make your stay and travel convenient, inexpensive and full of fun.

Vacation rentals in San Juan offer condo or apartment type places with one or more bedroom. There are speciality vacation rentals with a great view of the ocean. They take care of your every need including free parking and transportation to the airport at cheap rates. You can use the restaurants on the street to explore the local cuisine. It is a lovely way to remain close to the sea-side and enjoy your vacations in a homely atmosphere, away from the din and hustle-bustle of the main place.
