Shirdi is a small town in Maharashtra known for the Samadhi temple of Shri Sai Baba â€“ the great saint of modern India. This is the place where Sai Baba spent most of his life, and taught his devotees the reality and guided them along the path of love, forgiveness and truth. After his death, Babaâ€™s devotees built up a temple on his samadhi that is now one of the most popular religious places in India. Every year, millions of pilgrims come to Shirdi to catch a glimpse of this holy adobe and to pay homage to the saint.

Shirdi is approx 300km away from Mumbai â€“ the capital city of Maharashtra, and is popularly dubbed as the land of Sai. There are several tourist spots in/around the town, though itâ€™s well recognized for the shrine of Sai Baba that is a hub of pilgrims. Beautifully constructed with white marble stones, this temple has a large assembly hall that contains various items and pictures pertaining to the life of the saint. It opens on 5am with Morning Prayer, and closes down with Night Prayer at 10pm. Several events and festivals like Guru Poornima, Ram Navmi and Shirdi Vijyadashmi are celebrated in Shirdi every year. Apart from that, a palakhi containing a photograph of Shri Sai is taken out of the temple every Thursday.

Since the town is well connected through air, rail and road network with all major cities of India, planning for a Shirdi tour is not a hassle anymore. You can choose any of the transportation modes to get in this holy city. However, buying a Shirdi package from a reliable tour operator is the most convenient and hassle-free option. In order to make your Shirdi tour more joyful, itâ€™s imperative to choose the right kind of accommodation. There are several Shirdi hotels which provide the best of lodging facilities. Some luxury hotels in Shirdi offer excellent accommodation with all modern comforts and exceptional room services. Though these hotels charge a little bit higher, amenities provided by them will surely make your stay worth paying for. However, a number of budget hotels are there in Shirdi, which provide comfortable stay with all necessary facilities. The best in all, most of the Shirdi hotels are located in proximity to the main Sai Temple. You may consider the following hotels to make your stay in
