---Here at Genesi Stone Limited weâ€™re dedicated to the sourcing and retail of the most decorative natural stone flooring and tiling solutions. Our broad product range doesnâ€™t simply consist of natural stone flooring. We have the capacity to supply you with exterior paving, stone sinks and basins, or even under floor heating, which are similarly durable, functional or intricately designed.

For those of you with traditional tastes in natural stone flooring our antique natural stone flooring reflects exquisite class and sophistication, and can be adorned in most any living area of the home. With a selection of colours to choose from, and durability that will last a lifetime, there really is no excuse to not choose this antique natural stone flooring for your home. Weâ€™re confident that our natural stone flooring is highly cost-effective. Indeed, our website even has a price comparison section so you can see the savings that youâ€™ll make yourself.

Alternatively, if youâ€™re considering renovating your kitchen, and have decided to decorate the surfaces with granite worktops then we have a selection of designs to take your breath away. Our granite work surfaces make sure that the kitchen truly is the heart of your home. All as you need to do is forward us a design of your kitchen and weâ€™ll manufacture a kitchen surface thatâ€™s to be admired.

In addition to the natural stone flooring and granite work tops that Genesi Stone has to offer, we have a selection of exterior hardwearing natural stone flooring that is simply ideal for any patio environment. These hard wearing sandstones have a natural cleft finish and can be laid directly onto sand or cement. With a number of different colours and finishes to choose from, and prices that, once again offer significant discounts over the recommended retail cost of exterior natural stone flooring, you really need to come and browse these products.
