An Icon on the Road: Harley-Davidson Motorcycles by Claudio Mccarty

Article published on April 27th 2012 | Auto

The Harley-Davidson has been a popular police vehicle since its debut in 1908. Being highly maneuverable, this motorcycle provides superior tactical advantage that works to a much greater advantage than cars during patrol duty. The Harley-Davidsonâ€™s great reputation for reliability remains unparalleled, and its performance and innovation maintains its position as the primary choice of motorcycle riders in every country.

It was in the 1920â€™s that the Harley-Davidson motor company became the largest motorcycle manufacturer in the world. Since then, more than 3,000 police departments and government agencies have used this vehicle in the US alone. Harley-Davidson police motorcycles are also utilized in 45 countries around the world.

During World War I and II, meanwhile, these motorbikes were largely used to support war efforts. But it wasnâ€™t until the 1950â€™s that Harley-Davidsons became popular for civilian use. Countess designs and technological innovations soon followed.

In Utah, both new and experienced drivers can ride a Harley-Davidson motorcycle. Local dealerships offer learn-to-ride programs for those who want to learn and improve their skills. And, if you are interested in buying either a new or a pre-owned vehicle, you can choose a Harley-Davidson unit from the models offered. Go vintage or try a modern look. You can even design your own Harley through the full-array of services dealers provide.

Practically any motorcycle Utah residents drive is also offered for rent at local auto dealers. Take that motorcycle out of the state or drive around locally and participate in motorcycle events in the city. Choose from a vintage edition or the new ones from Harley-Davidson. To rent a Harley-Davidson, you must be at least 21 years of age with a valid motorcycle operatorâ€™s license. Also included in your rental fee are a Harley-Davidson helmet, rain suit, secure short-term luggage storage for stowing belongings while youâ€™re on the road, and a 24-hour emergency roadside assistance for towing, jump-starting, and fuel delivery.

Whether new or pre-owned, the motorcycles Utah dealerships offer easily feature a full array of choices that are bound to meet each prospect buyerâ€™s varying needs. Residents of Salt Lake City, South Valley, Park City, as well as neighboring communities may take a look at a new and pre-owned inventory for a clear overview of deals available.
