A leather handbag and the womenâ€™s clutch are two all the rage fashion accessories for the fashion fanatics. These two articles from fashion word play a very essential role when it comes to making style or adding zing to the personality. Both the fashion accessories are very easy-to-carry, convenient, comfortable, and can accumulate all the required things. However, both of them are built of different stuff, different shape, different sizes and different forms. A leather handbag, though may be a litter larger in size, is quite opposite to the womenâ€™s clutch when it comes to carry things.

The most important thing about it is the use of leather material that itself shows its sturdiness and comfort level. It can be used at both formal and informal occasions, while the clutches of women are comfortable to carry to make style. Where a leather handbag can store a lot of valuable articles such as ID cards, PAN card, coins, pen, pencil, and some personal things, the womenâ€™s clutch can store some essential and tiny things without with you cannot go out such as the lipsticks, a small mirror, pen, ID card, PAN card, pencil, napkins, coins, etc.

Apart from being essential fashion accessories, both the fashionable articles are also the best product to be gifted to your near and dear ones. Today, you can come across a large of these products in different colours, designs, shapes, sizes, varieties, etc. And if you really are an ardent follower of the latest fashion then both these fashion accessories are perfect to be followed and when you carry any one of them with you it will raise the eye-brows of all the on-lookers around you.

A leather handbag and the womenâ€™s clutch are not only the fashionable products, but they also increase or pacify your demeanour and personality. However, it is a very well proven fact that the leather handbags cannot replace the clutch, only because both are differently sized, shaped and designed for some specific purpose. Moreover, if we look at the history of both the products, there have been many changes in the overall look, appearance, built and style.
