Pick the Best Pennsylvania Personal Injury Lawyers by Angela Smith

Article published on January 9th 2012 | Law

Should misfortune strike in the form of you or your near one being injured or killed in a drunken driving accident, you should immediately hire the services of a lawyer. In Pennsylvania, reports have shown a rise in the number of DUI cases. There are several complex aspects to a DUI case but with able assistance from Pennsylvania personal injury lawyers you can build a strong case in the court of law. In fact, there are several aspects based on which you or your family could claim damages from drunk drivers. Following are some damages which you can recover rightfully as a victim:

Medical expenses

Pain, suffering and trauma

Other monetary damages (including damage to the vehicle)

Lost wages

Punitive damages

Wrongful death

In fact, under the Pennsylvania Dram Shop Statute, the person who served alcohol to the drunk driver can also be held responsible for the accident, apart from the driver. This Dram Shop Liability is a legal principle thatâ€™s unique to the Pennsylvania area. This is especially applicable in case the driver was visibly intoxicated or a minor. Considering all these facts, the law provides ample provisions to ensure that drunk drivers causing damage to life or property are suitably penalized in the court of law. Choose a Pennsylvania personal injury lawyer who has handled thousands of DUI matters and possesses a deep understanding of various DUI issues. In addition to overall knowledge, the lawyer should be able to foresee all the Personal Injury issues that would likely arise in your case.

Choosing a suitable law firm

A good law firm with an experienced team comprising Pennsylvania criminal lawyer and accident lawyers would be able to present a strong case in the court. Look for a law firm that has enough experience in places such as the Montgomery County and Bucks County. This is a direct indicator of the lawyersâ€™ familiarity with the law system. This will only make it easier for you to deal with the many complications of the law system.

Whether it is a high profile case or a regular case, Pennsylvania personal injury lawyers should be able to give enough time and attention to each case. What really matters is that the law firm leaves no stone unturned to represent your interests in the court of law.

Itâ€™s also important the your chosen law firm has enough familiarity with the medical and insurance industry. These things will go a long way in ensuring that your claim process is a smooth one. A good Pennsylvania drunk driving accident lawyer is your only hope of justice in a drunk driving case. A good law firm is one that has a good mix of a Pennsylvania criminal lawyer, personal injury lawyer, accident lawyer etc.
