Quality Used Cars from Reliable Dealerships in Indianapolis by Erwin Calverley

Article published on April 18th 2012 | Auto

Pre-owned cars are some of the favorite kinds of cars that buyers prefer because they are dependable and come at a reasonable price. Its reliability comes from the number of years it was used by its previous owner which has proven its performance and strength. Used cars were battered by weather changes and tested through all kinds of terrains that add to their character and dependability.

Aside from reliability, car dealers offer used cars at a good price. This is a great option especially for buyers who have a limited budget and are concerned with how to finance their purchase. Dealerships have a good number of used cars in their inventory. Some only carry specific brands in their showrooms while others have a wide range of brands and models.

Some of the brands that dealerships offer are Ford and Jeep. They also have quality pre-owned cars that still perform well and look good despite their earlier model. A number of used vehicles including coupes, sedans, crossovers, and SUVs of various brands from trustworthy manufacturers and private owners ensure the quality and state of the vehicle.

Two cars that are often available from dealers are Ford and Jeep. Ford offers the used performance vehicle Mustang priced at around $25,000 from its original price of $30,000. It is powered by a 3.7L V6 engine with variable valve timing.

The pre-owned Mustang from an Indianapolis Ford dealership has entertainment features that can be controlled from the steering wheel. It has a CD and MP 3 players and a satellite radio. It has external temperature display, power windows, multi-function remote, power mirrors, trip computer and cruise control. Its interior has heated leather seats with a bucket type seating in the front and bench seating at the rear. It comes equipped with passenger airbags, 4-wheel ABS brakes, stability control and traction control for the safety of its passengers.

The Jeep Wrangler Sport available from Indianapolis Ford dealership is priced at around $23,000 from its original price of $25,000. The Wrangler Sport's engine is powered by a 3.8L V6 engine with a 5-speed automatic transmission; and has an average fuel efficiency of around 17L on combined highway and city drives. It is outfitted with trip computer, tachometer, and compass, has power steering and towing capabilities, and be converted to a roofless vehicle with safety features.

Both the Mustang and the Jeep from Indianapolis Ford dealerships are quality pre-owned vehicles that give value for your money. Despite years of use, they continue to be reliable with their power engines and practical features. For more information about Ford and Jeep vehicles visit jeep.com and ford.com.
