People on the look out for reliable and trustworthy agencies who are offering car transport services by road have a wide choice. There are car transport companies specializing in rare car transport as well as classic car transport. Car transport in UK is a vital service, since there are many people looking for a fast, safe and reliable car transport service when they are moving, bag and baggage, from one place to another. There are also international car transport services for those moving to a foreign land.

There are many car transport companies who have mastered the fine art of classic car transport. Car owners today can be very fastidious about classic car transportation in order to avoid all risks of damages such as dents and scratches to their cars. A classic car transporter takes care to ensure that his carrier truck or trailer is so designed as to leave no chance for the cars to move during transportation. The wheels of the cars loaded into the truck have to be securely locked, at the same time ensuring that the wheels do not get damaged or go out of alignment. The cars are transported in huge, closed carrier vehicles, which may be individual trucks or trailers, with capacities of transporting several cars at a time. The cars are loaded in single file or some times mounted in two or even three tiers, depending on the size of the carrier vehicle. The insides have smooth edges and need to be totally weather proof. After all, no customer would expect to receive a car which is anything but spotlessly clean and dry at the time of taking delivery at the destination. The owner of a rare or classic car may wish to transport his car in an exclusive carrier truck.

International car transport by road transport involves additional requirements to be take care of by the car transport company. They would need to carry out customs formalities and also be aware of road transportation rules and regulations in all the countries they would have to drive through. On some occasions, they may even have to use ship or air transport for part of the trip, and hence they would need to have tie ups with shipping companies and / or air cargo services. A car transport company which offers single point of contact car transport service is assured of being the first choice of car owners.
