Article published on June 7th 2012 | Mobile Phones

'Google' a place where we can look for the product or the service which can help us in various ways, but recently the product which are mostly looked on these websites are none other than a mobile handset, and the reason is quite simple that is they have became an very important part of our lives.

To help you in your search of a perfect mobile, which should be of course rightly precised I have listed some of the basic features of a brand new mobile from Samsung which is know as Samsung galaxy pocket.

If you are the one who are thinking to change there very basic handset into a smart phone, but you are quite disappointed with the price of these smart phones are coming with in the market, then this handset which is know as Samsung galaxy pocket is the one for you. As it is not only coming in a price which is quite in the reach of every body (if the price is still not in reach than you can opt for the option of purchasing this product from various online shopping websites as they are providing a EMI facility, with the help of which you can pay the same amount in installments also there are many websites which are providing these facilities without any interest) but are also coming with a list of features in them.

Starting with the features...

if we list the various key feature of this new Samsung mobile phone in the market we will find that, this amazing product from the company comes with an operating system known as android v2.3 (gingerbread) which is supported by a 832 MHz ARM 11 processor, plus you can also find a 2.8 inch TFT capacitive touch screen with the help of which you can continue doing your various task on it without any problem, there is also a 2 mega pixel camera in this handset with the help of which you can capture all your favorite moments without any delays. With these few of the very basic features which are there in this handset there are many more in the list which will help you in performing your various task in the easiest manner, and to be aware of each and every feature you have to try out this handset your self, but trust you will only love this handset.

Also pretty lower if compared to the others from the company, this Samsung galaxy pocket has been offered by the company at a price of approx seven thousand only which means you can easily have a hand full of various features and millions apps at no price at all (if compared to other products prices), and also we can never forget that all these things are from a company which is in there in the list of some of the most trusted companies in the field of technology.
