Select the best Disc Jockey to make the occasion memorable by Jane Cyrus

Article published on March 31st 2012 | Music

Today no party is complete without Disc jockey which is popularly known as DJ. Disc jockey is one which maintains the party on for a long time by playing the awesome collection of the music for the guests. The disc in olden times was not considered as good but today a party in incomplete without the hot and classy music collection of a DJ.

Disc jockey is operated by a person who totally depends on his music to earn money for the daily bread of his family. Requirements of the Disc jockey DJs now days in discotheques, wedding receptions, bars and night clubs, stadium and in all type of formal and informal gathering is become essential. There is another kind of DJ also namely, radio disc jockey. It plays the music according to the lists given by radio station.

The radio DJ plays music for the listeners at various places like FM, AM, internet, shortwave etc. He work in studio which is completely air conditioned and water proof. He is not the person who can play according to his wish in fact the playlist has allotted to the radio disc jockeys DJs by the management so that they can target the audience and can increase their listeners as much as possible. Not only this they contact the listeners and play the music according to their wish so as to attract the audience.

The main job of the DJ is to give information related to the sports and other news and important announcement to the audience. They also give information related to the interviews with famous musicians and other famous personalities and they also help the listeners in forwarding their calls to them. The disc jockeys Djs should be more alert at the time of their working hours as sometimes they have to continuously talk for four hours at one time. Not only this, he has to work for five to six day in a week.

If a person wants to become a Disc jockey then he must possess the minimum qualification i.e. sufficient classes of journalism along with the good communication skills with spoken English and written skills and knowledge of music on this qualification is an additional skill required.

A DJ plays different types of music whether its Bollywood music, rock music, classical rock, hip hop or heavy metal. A DJ shows his importance mainly at the time of making special announcements in big parties.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/music-articles/select-the-best-disc-jockey-to-make-the-occasion-memorable.htm - Article Side

Jane Cyrus - About Author:
If you want to be a a Disc Jockeys DJs, you have to fulfill all the criteria and the minimum qualification.

Article Keywords:
how to play guitar, disc jockeys djs

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!