Article Side

Some Completely New Things to Think About Regarding Top Search Engine Ranking by Melita Mclean

Article published on January 6th 2012 | Book Marketing

Every few months Google adjusts their algorithms that they use for choosing search engine ranking for web sites. What what this means is to you is that you constantly have to keep up to date with the brand new revisions that Google creates. Along with Google's latest update they're placing more emphasis on how long men and women stay at your site and if they interact with your website. Below you will find a few suggestions that you can follow that will have men and women staying on your site longer than they used to.

Most people have external links on their website pointing to other sites and you need to make sure that these links always open up in a new window. If a new window opens over your window, your website will remain open even though they are looking at the other site. Google will then assume that these folks are remaining on your site because you have good content. In most cases when a new window opens the user won't go and try and locate the other window to close it before they read that website. If the other if website is interesting and the visitor remains there for a long period, your website will still be getting credit for that time as long as the user didn't close your window.

You additionally want to get men and women to interact with your website and you can do this by offering them a thing that they can download for free. A lot of men and women use a pop-up that shows up to new visitors to do this. You don't have to make an effort to get the visitors e-mail address in this box, you only want to provide them with a link that they're able to click to get a free download. At this time you want the link that they clicked on to bring them to an additional page on your website. The benefit of using this technique is to keep men and women on your internet site longer and also to get them to interact with your website. An additional advantage of this is to try and get your visitors e-mail address on the next page so you can start creating a list. By utilizing this technique not only are you going to be helping your search engine ranking but you'll also have the ability to develop a list.

Even with Google's update the basics of Seo will stay the same. This includes appropriate key word and also key word phrase positioning throughout your internet site. Back-link building is still going to be an essential part of your search engine positioning so you'll want to keep building links. Most individuals are aware of the necessity of back-links but in case you are not, you should realize that this will greatly impact your rankings. By following these suggestions you should have the ability to keep people on your website longer which in turn will help your placement in Google There are obviously other ways to keep folks on your website but the suggestions should get you started.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/book-marketing-articles/some-completely-new-things-to-think-about-regarding-top-search-engine-ranking.htm - Article Side

Melita Mclean - About Author:
For more info please visit: a Abe Forex Signals

Article Keywords:
Search Engine Ranking,Search Engine

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!