Five Great Reasons to Use Glass Pipes by Mikel Jagger

Article published on March 14th 2012 | Shopping

Glass pipes enjoy widespread popularity among smokers compared to pipes made of other materials such as wood, metal, ceramic etc. Oneâ€™s preference for pipes depends on his lifestyle and smoking requirements. Smokers all over the world prefer glass pipes mainly due to the wide range of various advantages offered by them.

Some of the benefits of glass pipes

Glass pipes do not gain heat easily â€“ This is one of the main benefits of using a glass pipe. The material glass will take longer time to gain heat when compared to metal. Glass pipes also drop heat at a quicker pace. Since the material does not heat up much, it is easier and more convenient to handle it.

Glass pipes offer a healthy option to smoke â€“ The property of gaining less heat also makes glass pipes a much healthier option. Since surplus smoke is not produced, the pipe will remain clean and hence offers a healthier way to smoke.  Since more smoke is accumulated in the chamber it does not contribute to residual taste. Metal pipes tend to gives a bitter kind of after taste.

Glass pipes add to style quotient â€“ Art lovers prefer to buy glass pipes since most of them flaunt unique forms and styles. Uniquely-crafted glass pipes can add distinctive personality to the user. With changing colors, blazing shades, intricate designs and all kinds of shapes, a special kind of look and feel can be achieved. Glass pipes are preferred over other pipes by people with a finesse for style and passion for class, mainly due to its unparalleled visual appeal and utility. Vigilantly hand crafted and hand blown with a lot of dexterity and concentration, glass pipes can be a source of pride to users. Pyrex glass pipes are a very popular variety, which is lustrous in design, style, color and fun.

Glass pipes are strong and durable â€“ Glass pipes are preferred over other pipes due to their ability to withstand stress and pressure. Since glass pipes are crafted from a single piece of material which is heated and molded to perfection, they stand the test of time and can be enjoyed for lifetimes.

Glass pipes add more fun due to transparency â€“ Since glass pipes can be both transparent and opaque, users have fun enjoying the smoke passing through the pipe. Smokers take great pleasure in watching the smoke packing the chamber of the pipe. Another advantage is that glass pipes are subjected to change in look and character as time passes by. This is mainly due to the see-through nature of the glass pipe, or if the glass blower used color-changing glass. As smoke travels through the pipe for several times, the glass will become more foggy and wealthier in shade and design.

Besides all these advantages, glass pipes are easy to clean and maintain. Glass pipes are said to be the optimal choice especially to first time users. They make a smoking ritual much more enjoyable.
