IPL Score and IPL Points Table for IPL 5 fanatics by Ashish Pandey

Article published on April 4th 2012 | Sports

It is again time to witness the moments of success, colored pajamas and the fight among the states! No, we are not specifically or literally talking about the â€œstate-fightâ€• that you usually see in the elections; we are talking about the fight in the competitive way, in the way of cricket! DLF IPL Season 5 is here and the cricket enthusiasts are gearing up right from now! What amuses people about the IPL format of cricket is an amalgamation of a lot of factors such as strategic time-out, Bollywood, cheerleaders, razzmatazz, Sidhu, cheerleaders and of course, cricket! This is actually one format of cricket that offers a lot of entertainment and not anxiety, unlike other cricket formats. It brings crickets from all over the world under one team and of course, in the living rooms of most of the Indians who wish to watch their city or state win! It is indeed the reason for the cricket fans to cherish and with this also begins the curiosity to know about the IPL score live!

Ever since the World Cup victory last year, Indian cricketers have not given a lot of chances to the nation to rejoice, apart from of course, the much-hyped Masterâ€™s 100th 100. People are really looking forward to the IPL 5 because it will definitely allow the cricketers to revive their talent and potential once again, and definitely will give a chance to the selectors to find â€œhidden talentâ€• in India. Talking about the IPL score, you can of course find them all over the Internet with the cricket websites, on the mobiles as well as on the other media platforms like TV and radio.

But, just to refresh your memory, IPL 5 will include nine teams, one of which will qualify for the finals after 76 matches. The matches will be played in 12 venues and home ground will always be one of the venues. As far as IPL 5 is concerned, it is important to note that this is a chance for the Indian cricketers to take off once again, especially after the disastrous year in which they faced eight continuous Test defeats as well as ODI failures. The eyes will focus primarily on Virendra Sehwag, Ravindra Jadeja and Suresh Raina, whose performance has not been up-to-the mark since the world cup! The IPL score will be more or less like the reputation test.

Another important factor that will be important is the IPL Points Table. It is through this that you may know about the team that is leading or lagging. The IPL Points Table is being updated after each and every match. The first IPL season 5 match is to be played between Dhoni and Tendulkar, or rather Chennai Super Kings and Mumbai Indians. After one of the team wins the match, the IPL Points Table will be updated.

The cricket fans who do not have a lot of time to check the IPL score every now and then can have a look at the IPL Points Table to know about their favorite team.
