In 2012, London will become the first country to host Olympics three times. The first was 1908, where they set new standards for hosting of the games. London was again the host in 1948, which featured a Dutch sprinter and the then mother of two, Fanny Blankers Koen, who became the athletic to win 4 gold medals in the same Olympics. Distinguishing the event of olympics games 2012 from those of the rest, hosted by London, this time they will be using the best and most well known locations of the country. Central London sites will host archery, road cycling, beach volley ball, and triathlon.

The brand new Olympic site will host track and field, swimming and opening and closing ceremonies in part of a larger development called the Olympic Park. The river zone starting from the river Thames includes the venue for gymnastics, boxing, wrestling and many more. In 2008 Beijing games, US and other participants showed their talents and became stars after the games. They are expected to show up again for the 2012 games, including eight times the 2008 gold medallist Michael Phelps, the winner of most gold medals in the same games. The back to back beach volley ball champions are to reappear this time for the olympics games 2012 london. Olympics gymnastic champion, the sprinter champions for the 2008 Olympics track and field champions are expected to reappear for the participation.

The country embraces the majesty of the old, and the excitement of the new. The games of the 30th Olympiad, is to be scheduled in July in 2012. Now we know that the olympic games 2012 are to be held in London. The olympic games dates start from 27th of July this year. But we according to the olympic games schedule, to earn a ticket with respect to your favourite games is a little complicated matter. The whole world waits for the games, and therefore it becomes absolutely tough to arrange for tickets, if you do not hurry up. olympic game tickets are served on first come first service, and will be sold until 26th July 2012. But looking at the rush and excitement among the mass, donâ€™t be assured if you will get a ticket if you apply on the last day.

Do not beat around the bush, and wait for a particular gameâ€™s ticket only. Get a ticket for whichever games you are getting. This is because, in such a condition, you might end up empty handed. Also it is better not to wait for the tickets of only the final of the games. Sometimes semi-finals and quarter finals are even more exciting, and nevertheless, when everyone wants a ticket for finals, you can check out the probability of getting it, if you are late to apply. The tickets are to be sold starting from 20 pound. However children under 16 can get one by paying a sum of 16 pounds. If you do not get the ticket a sport that is most predictable, do not panic. Try for those sports, which you might have not heard of before. They will be equally fun to watch, especially in the Olympic environment.
