What are the Facilities Available Often Seen in Motorhomes? by Kyle

Article published on May 19th 2012 | Sports

Traveling by motorhome or camper van is one of the most comfortable forms of travel while embarking on any vacation. Both can be extensively equipped, almost like a house on wheels. When considering the rental of motorhome or camper van it's great to know what kind of facilities they include and what needs to be brought with. Of course there are many varieties and not all will have the same facilities. A few of the great rental companies these days provide travelers with just about everything they could possibly need apart from food and toiletries that is.

Camper vans can sleep two to three people while motorhomes can sleep up to six people comfortably depending on the vehicle itself. Many of the beds in motorhomes and camper vans are hidden to maximize space during the day and can be pulled out at night when it's time to turn in. Motorhomes and camper vans with an even number of births (beds) are complete with double beds that sleep two persons, where as the odd number births mean they include doubles beds and an additional single bed. Rented motorhomes and camper vans will come complete with fresh clean mattresses, bed linens, and pillows for the convenience of the traveler.

Just because you are travelling the outback doesn't mean travelers have to cook over a campfire, although they can if they prefer it. All motorhomes and camper vans are equipped with stoves, fridges, and microwaves so travelers can cook up a storm on your holidays. There's a sink and adequate counter space for meal preparation. Even little appliances such as kettles, toasters, and such can be found on board with an abundance of kitchenware so travelers can get the most of their trip. Long journeys require full bellies, and since there's a kitchen onboard, there's no excuse not to make use of it. There is also adequate space for all passengers to enjoy their meals at the kitchen tables that some of the camper vans and all of the motorhomes have inside.

After hiking through the forests or spending days on beaches, travelers will value their own personal shower onboard all motorhomes and some camper vans. Showering at shared showers can be uncomfortable and leave one feeling dirtier than they were prior to entering the shower so it's great to be able to make use of the showers onboard. Of course there is also a flush toilet located on all motorhomes and some camper vans which means no more 3am trips to the outhouse with a flash flight.

It's possible that the weather might be unsightly during the trip and in that case motorhome renters will be glad they have a television on board to watch movies till the weather clears. The large kitchen table is also great from getting together and playing some favorite board games. All in all, traveling by camper van and motorhome is a great way to spend any vacation. Both are well-equipped with nearly everything needed for an enjoyable trip. All you have to do is to bring yourself!
