Article published on November 25th 2011 | Technology

This is 21st century â€“ an era of speed and development. In the last few years, we have seen great developments in the field of science. The result as we can see is the abundance of various types of gadgets or tools. Our daily life is indispensible without these devices. Now batteries are needed to run many of them. The ub1280 batteryUB1280 battery is a famous brand of battery that is widely used all over the world.

Now while using the UB1280 battery for a very long time, it may happen that the acid from inside the cells is oozing out due to improper handling or maintenance. This can be quite harmful for you, both physically and economically. The acid can damage both your health and also the device it is used in. Thus it is very much necessary for us to know the method of cleaning the batteries. The things that we may need to carry out our work properly is gloves made of latex, cotton, torn rag, small brush, flathead screwdriver, tin, and any 3 in 1 oil.

For safety reasons, put on the latex gloves before you start your work. With the help of the flathead screwdriver, you need to patiently open the charger. Once the damaged ub1280 UB1280 batteries are taken out, they should be immediately disposed in the metal tin case. The leaking of battery will be confirmed by the presence of acid. The acid may have deposited like hard calcium deposits. They must be slowly scraped off using the screwdriver and then the dusts should be properly cleaned with the brush. Now cotton is made wet by a drop or two of the oil. Then the cotton is slowly rubbed all over the charger, mainly the metallic regions and is left to dry. The excess oil, if present should removed by the cotton. Now by installing new UB1280 batteries, you can again use your charger.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/technology-articles/how-to-remove-ing-leaked-acid-of-battery-from-a-charger.htm - Article Side

Julia Roger - About Author:
For more information on a ub1280 battery, check out the info available online; these will help you learn to find the a ub1280!

Article Keywords:
UB1280 battery

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!