Article published on March 22nd 2012 | Technology

Those were the days when you had to book a long distance call and wait for the operator to connect the call. You had to speak in a hurry to save those call minutes and speak harder to make sure your voice reached the other end. Making a call, back then was a tiresome, time consuming process and not only that, calls were very expensive. Advancement in technology has given a makeover to the home phones by incorporating digital techniques to bring some of the best features to the subscriberâ€™s premises. Digital phones with crystal clear voice clarity and reliable services certainly make your home phone usage exciting.

There are many providers offering great Home phone service with incredible offers and discounts. All you need to do is select the best pick from the lot to suit you and your familyâ€™s phone usage needs. Look for the connection that gives good service in your area and then make your choices. Some providers even offer you the convenience of bundling your home phone with television and Internet service. This will bring all your home services under one roof. By opting for such kind of bundle deals removes the confusion of having to deal with a number of bills every month. All you home services will be billed in a single bill, which is easier for you to track and pay.

Home phone service gives you the flexibility of saving money on calls with its wide range of calling plans. Choose the right calling plan to suit you and select the right calling features to go with it. Some home phone providers offer several unique calling features for free which really makes your phone usage simple. If your phone usage is limited to making calls within the city, then you can choose a basic package with lots of free local call minutes. If you have many long distance and international calls to make, select a plan that cost you less but gives you more talk time. Choose the plans according to your home needs and get the best out of your home phone service.

Digital home phone service offer a host of calling features which is a blend of both traditional and advanced ones. Call Waiting, Caller ID, Caller ID on TV, Call Waiting & Caller ID, Caller ID Block, Call Forwarding, Voice Mail, Charges Block, Call Reject, Anonymous Call Reject, 3-Way Calling and many others. With the help of such calling features, you can manage your phone calls like never before. The advanced digital phone features reduces your chances of missing any important calls. You can keep track of every single call that you receive on your home phone even when you are away from home. Voice Mail feature records all your calls and when you return home you can just sit back and play the recorded calls. Voice Mail even records messages when you are on another call or when you just do not want to receive any calls.

Sometimes you receive calls and wished you had not received the call only if you had got a cue about the caller beforehand. Caller ID is a handy feature that displays caller name and phone number when you receive a call. You can then decide to receive the call or ignore it depending according to your preferences. Caller ID pops up even when you are on another call and with Call Wait beep sound you can identify the source of the call. If you have a home phone and television service from the same provider, you can even make use of the flexible feature known as Caller ID on TV.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/technology-articles/save-money-and-benefit-from-great-offers-of-home-phone.htm - Article Side

Treeves - About Author:
Tina is a freelance writer who likes to write about technology related topics. She likes to writes about the great features of a Home phone Service.

Article Keywords:
Home phone Service, digital phones

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!