Sky Talk have two different calling packages to choose from. They are affordable and are great for varying types of phone users. It is also much cheaper than BT monthly line rental costs, so it helps to save you some extra money by going with Sky.

Sky Talk Freetime is suitable for those who only use the phone during evenings and weekends. You receive free evening and weekend calls to UK landline numbers, as well as cheap deals to UK mobiles and international landline numbers. You are also about to contact the help centre at any time and free of charge, meaning Sky has excellent customer service for your convenience. This Freetime package does not cost anything on top of the line rental fee of ?12.25 per month.

Talk Unlimited only costs ?5 per month on top of the ?12.25 per month Sky Line Rental cost. This is still very affordable and ideal for people who make a lot of phone calls, as well as during the daytimes. If you have several friends or family members abroad too then this is also a good option. You will receive unlimited free calls at any time to UK landline numbers. Calls to UK mobile phone numbers are also cost effective, as they are 20% cheaper than with the Freetime package. The unlimited deal offers free calls to various landlines in 20 different countries, such as Austria, Germany, Hungary, Czech Republic, Canada, Belgium, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Ireland, Australia, Denmark, France, Greece, Luxembourg, Spain, USA, Norway, Switzerland and Sweden. It also includes calls to mobile phones in the USA and Canada.

Many people in UK have BT line rental and are connected to their calls services. They are a popular provider and offer various different calling plans to customers. The Unlimited Weekend Calling Plan does not cost anything extra per month on top of the line rental fee. You get free calls between midnight on Fridays to midnight on Sundays. It is suitable for light phone users who only make calls during the weekends, perhaps because they work full time during the week.

The Unlimited Evening and Weekend Calling Plan is ideal for those who work full time and only make calls during the evenings and weekends. It costs ?3.15 per month on top of the line rental costs and includes free calls between 7pm and 7am on weekdays and all hours on weekends.

The Unlimited Anytime Calling Plan is perfect for heavy phone users who make a lot of calls and do so during the day times as well. This costs ?4.90 extra per month and includes free calls at any time, making it suitable for those who work from home or stay at home parents.

Line rental costs ?120 per year if you pay the full amount in advance, which is the same as ?10 per month, or if you prefer to pay on a monthly basis, then the payments will be ?14.60 each month.
