A personal storage unit always comes in handy during a home renovation by Simon Dcruz

Home renovations are often quite the mess; which is why we often choose to stay out of it, and let the contractors do all the work. There is a lot of dust and dirt not forgetting the mould and mildew which gets exposed and floats in the air in and around the house. For people with allergies this often poses a big threat which is why most people prefer to rent a room until the renovation is complete.

What also gets damaged during renovation work, are the goods at home including furniture, antiques and old paintings. Most contractors would often move such items to one side of the room and begin work not knowing that the dirt and dust which are scraped of the walls often get deposited on fabric and furniture. This not only deteriorates the quality of furniture but more importantly leads to mould and mildew; the smell of which we get upon pulling off the sheets once the renovation work is done. For those who do have an allergy with such substances; furniture would most often have to be discarded.

The best solution for such a problem is to register for a personal storage solution in Dubai. A personal storage solution allows for a proper space to store the aforementioned items according to oneâ€™s requirements in a safe and secure manner. Climate controlled storage facilities in Dubai such as The Box allows for a mould and mildew-free solution for those who suffer from allergies. Furniture and other collectibles can be easily moved into a storage unit of their customerâ€™s choice or they could simply contact The Boxâ€™s movers and packers services in Dubai for assistance.

What makes The Box so different apart from their polite yet professional movers and packerâ€™s team are their long list of unique and customer friendly services and benefits.
