To explore Spain in its entirety, you need a minimum of two weeks. However, pressed for time, as we all are, making even a weekâ€™s time seems appears out of question. Hence, be selective and choose the capital city of Spain for your weekend break. Madrid is a place that reminds you of, among other things, football, beaches, and hot babes. There cannot be a doubt that it qualifies as one of the famous stag do destinations around.

Every single part of the city has one attraction or the other to offer. Madrid is a historic city with countless heritage points around. For added fun, explore the city on a bicycle. After all, it is not everyday that you get to discover the choicest of European cities in a bicycle. The experience is sure to leave you mesmerized.

Those want to try their hands at paintballing should definitely visit places where such activities take place on a regular basis. In fact, you can spend the madrid weekend paintballing at one of the several places on the outskirts of the city. Among other adventure activities, biking and karting are quite popular. However, if you do not wish to shed much energy before the wedding, then golfing would be an ideal choice. Last but not the least it would be a crime to spend the Madrid weekend without experiencing a single football match live.

From daytime activities, let us now focus on the post-sundown Madrid. The nights at the Spanish capital are enigmatic, sultry, and exciting. Apart from pubs and bars, you can even consider visiting strip clubs for added fun during the weekend.
