Edmonton Renovation Show: for the Latest Trends in Architecture by Crystal Vea

Article published on April 5th 2012 | Travel

The Edmonton Renovation Show is the first consumer show of the year that opens to the public and sets the trend for events for the rest of the year. This show focuses on home and lifestyle and attracts builders and renovators, gardening experts, interior designers, door and window contractors, suppliers, plumbers, furniture and lifestyle product manufacturers. Each year, this show is held at the Expo Centre in Northlands, Edmonton.

Dubbed Canadaâ€™s cultural capital, Edmonton is home to over 2500 shows each year and millions of visitors attend these shows. Most of the shows are held at the Northlands Edmonton EXPO Center which hosts consumer shows as well as trade shows closed to the public. Major shows are the Alberta Gift Show, Edmonton Boat and Sportsmenâ€™s Show, the Farm Fair Agricultural Show and The National Franchise & Business Opportunities Show.

About the Edmonton Renovation Show

A much awaited consumer event, the Edmonton Renovation Show is something home owners who are keen on remodelling or redecorating eagerly look forward to attending. The show revolves around the building, renovation and decor theme and businesses in this industry are well represented at the show as a lot of business gets transacted during the event.

Exhibitors at the show register well in advance so as not to miss out on opportunities at this massive buying show. There are hundreds of exhibitors and home industry professionals ready to help customers achieve that new look for their homes and other living spaces. The 2012 show saw likeminded professionals interacting with each other.

A professionally organized show, the Edmonton Renovation Show allows exhibitors from the construction and real estate industry showcase their best products while building new contacts. It is also the ideal place where businesses share and discuss various issues related to products, services and trends. Homeowners usually make their plans ahead and attend the exhibition. Most of them buy, book or sign contracts.

Some of the product categories featured at the show are:

â€¢ Kitchen products including cabinets and countertops

â€¢ Bathroom, kitchen and bath hardware

â€¢ Wall, roofing materials and flooring products

â€¢ Basement systems

â€¢ Building and roofing materials and products

â€¢ A wide range of curtains, drapes, blinds

â€¢ Lighting products

â€¢ Heating cooling systems and fireplaces

â€¢ Home entertainment products

â€¢ Furnishings

The profile of the guests ranges from architects to developers, home owners, government bodies, commercial property owners and public academics. The show is aptly titled the little show with big results and spread over three days. Each year, the show highlights a specific industry.

Visitors to the show, who come from out of town, find convenient hotels like the Coliseum Inn nearby. At the Edmonton Renovation Show, prominent home renovation television show personalities talk to home owners, offering cost-effective tips to transform their home. This show is the biggest annual building material and architectural show where local and international companies participate.
