Article published on July 27th 2012 | Travel

Dhaka is the capital of Bangladesh and it undoubtedly is one of the chief cities of South Asia. Founded in 1608AD, it has been known as the city of mosques and muslin. Several mosques were erected during the times of Mughal reign in Dhaka as the city itself was founded by one of the eminent Mughal emperor.

It is a striking proposition for those nomads who cannot do without wandering from one location to another in search of exploring something interesting. Dhaka is the heart of Bangladesh and is located between Sylhet and Sunderbans. Many take flights to Dhaka to visit its various attractions that draw a lot of people to come and soak themselves in its sightseeing spots.

The city of Dhaka can prove to be overwhelming and aggravating at times but can also bestow you with marvellously attractions that take your breath away. Located on the banks of Buriganga River, the city is also known as the â€œcity of mosques.â€• It may come as a surprise to you that the capital of Bangladesh is known as the producer of the most unmatched â€œmuslinâ€• in the world. Muslin is a kind c cotton fabric that is delicately woven. This fine material is brought to use for the purpose of fabricating dresses, curtains and other textile materials.

When the Mughal Emperor Jahangir was in his supremacy, the city was known by the name of Jahangir Nagar. Other than the reputation of being one of the most heavily populated cities in the world. Taking an expedition to Dhaka would definitely a memorable experience in itself as you would come across diverse races, cultures and civilizations in this city. Dhaka can rightly be considered as the centre of cultural, commercial, industrial and political activities that have been on a loose in the country.

When it comes to booking flights to Dhaka, numerous people come into contact with trustworthy travel agents so that they can reap various benefits of some of the best deals which are way beyond compare.

There is a plethora of highlights that entice a flock of the tourists from all over the world such as Lalbagh Fort, Central Shahid Minar, National Zoo, Botanical Garden, Baitul Mukarram Mosque, 1857 Memorial and the list does not come to a halt. The locals in the city are very congenial and exhibit warmth and hospitality as they make the right way for the tourists to get well-versed with the various aspects of the city.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-articles/excite-your-senses-with-the-historical-attractions-in-dhaka.htm - Article Side

Robert Connor - About Author:
Robert Connor is an expert in the tourism industry and has extensive knowledge about a cheap airfare to Dhaka and a flights to Dhaka from Manchester. You can contact him at +44 (0) 208 385 6850.

Article Keywords:
flights to Dhaka, cheap flights to Dhaka, going to Dhaka, flying to Dhaka, Dhaka holidays, holidays

to Dhaka, find flights for Dhaka, cheap air fare to Dhaka, air tickets to Dhaka

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!