India is a vast country of great significance on a global level. It is a confluence of a number of religions, castes, communities and tribes. It is a land of myriad colours and has an interesting mix of people hailing from different walks of life. It boasts of plains, plateaus, mountains, oceans and a desert too. All its states reflect a distinct character and exude an endearing charm of their own. There are many archaeological sites unearthed so far that bear invaluable historical importance. A long list of monuments, museums, national parks and sanctuaries, orchards, dams, forests, beaches, etc. make the country a touristâ€™s delight. The country is a rich treasure trove of exclusive species of flora and fauna along with many endangered birds and animals. The country sees countless people from all across the world visit it every year and come back again to discover its riches.

The national language of India is Hindi (Devanagari script). Several cultures co exist here and almost two hundred languages are in use in the country. It is a country that has received universal recognition as one with immense integrity and the subcontinent has left a mark in fields of education, science and medicine, entertainment, games, trade, etc.

Madhya Pradesh

Almost all parts of India are accessible to the rest of the world by air, train, bus or ship. One state in India that stands out with prominence is Madhya Pradesh. This is because there are tourist places in Madhya Pradesh that have the capability of impressing people belonging to different backgrounds, and having varied tastes and preferences. The stateâ€™s primary river is Narmada. The spectacular Indhya and Satpura mountains are found here that add to its beauty.

Madhya Pradesh tourism

Madhya Pradesh tourism has its high points in the stateâ€™s Buddhist heritage, majestic forts and palaces, national parks, scenic sunrises, exquisitely carved temples (like the Khajuraho Temples), ancient caves and pre historic cave paintings, dense forests, et al. These act as major places to visit in Madhya Pradesh and lure visitors and travelers from all corners of the world.

Tourism in Madhya Pradesh takes place on a huge scale and the industry generates great revenues from it. It is truly a secular state with attributes that serve as a cultural heritage of Hindus, Buddhists, Jains and Muslims. One can avail well planned Madhya Pradesh tourism packages that are many times specifically made to help us cover most of the meaningful Madhya Pradesh tourist places in an organized way.
