Their goal is to ensure that goods are kept in excellent condition and handled with the utmost care. International Warehouse Group currently enjoys relationships with some of the most well-known manufacturers, distributors and major retailers in the world. Their unparalleled customer service and expertise has earned them a reputation of being one of the most trusted warehousing facilities in the United States.

International Warehouse Group has the facilities to store whatever you need. Their combined locations total over one million square feet of storage space, capable of housing anything from apparel to machinery, building materials, housewares, electronics and even beverage items. Their location in Melville, on Long Island, is conveniently located to meet the warehousing needs in New York City for a wide variety of businesses. Located near the Long Island Expressway, goods can be warehoused and accessed with ease from anywhere in the Tri-State area. The facility is modern and secure, with state of the art systems to keep track of inventory, along with 24/7 electronic surveillance, to ensure that all goods remain secure 365 days a year.

While your goods are housed at an International Warehouse Group location, you can take advantage of additional services offered to make your storage even more cost effective. If you need to ship items directly from one of their warehouse locations, they provide packing, ticketing and labeling services, along with expedient shipping to get your orders to where they need to go. If you're housing a large inventory of related components that need to be packaged for retail sale, International Warehouse Group provides kitting services to your specifications, giving you the option of having your goods packaged in their facility. This cost saving measure allows manufacturers to save money on packaging and labor, with the staff at International Warehouse Group handling your packaging in the same location it is stored in.
